COTTON MERGER WITH A CAPITAL OF $20,000,000

Mill Owners and Bankers Have Formed International Cotton Mills Corporation.

22 BIG COTTON MILLS IN THE CONSOLIDATION

Sales and Distributing Agencies Also Represented---Consolidation of Cotton Mills Is Said to Be the Largest of the Kind Ever Attempted in the United States.

New York, July 28.—New England, New York and Baltimore mill owners, bankers and capitalists, incorporated today the International Cotton Mills Corporation, under the laws of New York, with an authorized capital of $10,000,000, 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, and $10,000,000 common stock.

Statement by President.

A statement issued this afternoon by Myron C. Taylor, president of the new corporation, says that textile mills, sales and distributing agencies in this country and Canada which manufacture and sell 3,000 varieties of cotton cambrics, are included in the merger.

The properties consolidated represent twenty-two mills an dthirty-five sent twenty-two mills and thirty-five of land, part of which is under cotton cultivation, and employing 10,000 hands, with an aggregate annual output of approximately $18,000,000.

Among the mare the Stark mills, of Manchester, N. H.; the Mt. Vernon Woodbury Cotton Duck Company, the Consolidated Cotton Duck Company, the Boston Yarn Company, the Bay State otton Corporation, the Eastern Mills and the Maryland Mills

Who the Promoters Are.

President Taylor is president of the American Commercial Corporation, and a director of the Bay State Cotton Corporation, the Boston Yarn Company, the Lowell Weaving Company, the Mercantile Corporation and other interest in the trade. Other officials are:

Charles M. Warner, New York; Thomas M. Turner, New York, and P. T. Jackson, Boston, vice presidents; J. B. Amitage, Boston, general manager; Augustus P. Loring, Boston, treasurer; David B. Carroll, Baltimore, secretary, and S. Davies Warfield, Baltimore, chairman of the board of directors. All the officers are named as directors, in addition to a number of prominent men in New England, New York city and Baltimore.

Largest of the Kind.

Boston, July 28.—The proposed consolidation of cotton mills is said to be the largest of the kind ever undertaken in the United States. The Consolidated Cotton Stock Company, which is to be absorbed by the International Cotton Mills' Corporation, is a combination of duck mills, including the Stark Mills, of Manchester, N. H., and the Mt. Vernon Woodbury Cotton Duck Company, of New Jersey and Maryland. The Consolidated Cotton Duck Company is controlled largely by Boston capital.

The other mills to be taken over include yarn mills in this state and New York, and two cloth mills in Canada.

The big cloth mills of Fall River, New Bedford, Rhode Island, Lowell, Lawrence and Manchester, N. H., with the exception of the Stark plant, are not connected with the new corporation.

John Lind Named for Governor Amid Scene of Great Disorder---Says He Won't Accept Nomination---No County Option Plank in Platform.

EX-GOV. LIND TO REFUSE TO LEAD THE DEMOCRATS

St. Paul, Minn., July 28.—Former Governor John Lind, who was nominated as democratic candidate for governor at Minneapolis this afternoon, will not, under any consideration, accept the nomination, according to a statement made tonight by Norman Lind, his son, of Everett, Wash., where the nominee is now visiting.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—Democratic storm signals which were flying when the state democratic convention met here today were torn to shreds by the tempest of feeling which was let loose late this afternoon over the nomination of John Lind for governor and the attempt to introduce a direct resolution in the party platform favoring county option.

For more than three hours there was no let-up to the scene of disorder except for a few moments, when Chairman Michael Daly managed to make himself heard after terrific pounding with a piece of 2x4 scantling, which he used as a gavel.

Unusual Condition Existed.

Mutterings of trouble were heard early in the day and an unusual condition existed. The entire convention was a unit in declaring that John Lind was one of the best democrats in Minnesota. They were all his friends, but divided into two factions, one declaring that Lind must be nominated despite his repeated refusal to be a candidate for the nomination and his final flat declaration in a telegram from Portland, Ore., that he would not accept the nomination if made; the other declaring that John Lind had been governor of Minnesota and had nothing to gain by the nomination and that he was of sufficient importance

No Attempt Will Be Made to Run Cars Until Gov. Harmon Arrives Today---Mayor Issues a Formal Proclamation, Putting Military in Full Charge of the Situation.

Columbus, Ohio, July 28.—Although there are 1,651 officers and men of the Ohio National Guard encamped in Columbus tonight no effort is to be made until tomorrow noon to resume service on the lines of the Columbus Railway and Light Company, which have been involved in a strike since Sunday.

Harmon's Arrival Awaited.

Governor Harmon's arrival from his summer home in Michigan is awaited before cars are taken out again. There has been no disorder since the cars were stopped at 10 o'clock last night when riots were raging in various parts of the city.

General W. V. McMaken, of Toledo, is in charge of the militia here, which embraces the Second, Third and Sixth regiments. Troop A, of Cleveland; Battery C, of Columbus, and hospital and signal corps companies. The troop, battery and hospital companies are encamped in the state house grounds. To provide quarters foretaoletaoinnn Troop A roped off half a square of Broad street, the city's leading residence street.

Troops Are Jeered.

A battalion of the Third regiment while passing through the city to its camp in Franklin park, was jerred, but aside from this there was no resentment expressed to the coming of troops.

Maintenance of the military organization here costs $4,500 a day. Transportation to and from Columbus will cost $8,000.

The call for troops came as the result of continuous rioting throughout the city for the past few days, following the strike of union motormen and conductors of the Columbus Street Railway Company, who demand a recognition of their union.

Mayor Marshall has issued a formal proclamation placing Brigadier General McMaken in full charge of the situation.

General McMaken, in command of the troops, said that he would not place soldiers on the street cars.

Petitions are being circulated, addressed to the mayor, asking that a receiver be named for the street car company.

CHAMBER FAVORS WAREHOUSE PLAN

Directors Discuss Bonded Cotton Houses.

Without Committing Themselves to Mr. Sully's Idea, Members Indorse Plan Along the Line Proposed by Cotton Man.

Following the recent visit of Daniel J. Sully to Atlanta, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday went on record as favoring the establishment of bonded cotton warehouses throughout the south, along the line proposed by Mr. Sully, but without committing themselves to Mr. Sully's plan. Bonded warehouses, from which shall be issued cotton receipts of a nature to be received by banks as collateral for almost face value, will, according to the plan Mr. Sully has mapped out, be established in many of the southern cities. These warehouse receipts or certificates shall be of such a nature that they will be accepted anywhere in the world where cotton is sold or bought for their face value, less interest. It was to this general plan, rather than the specific efforts of Mr. Sully, who is said to have the backing of a large European corporation, that the directors of the Chamber of Commerce indorsed in their special meeting.

When in Atlanta last week Mr. Sully was accompanied by G. Scott-Dalgleisch, of Cairo, Egypt, and London. Mr. Dalgleisch is a representative of the Hirsch syndicate of London, a company said to have an enormous financial backing. Mr. Sully and the Hirsch syndicate are planning to secure in Atlanta and numbers of other southern cities warehouses where large quantities of cotton may be stored. Where suitable warehouses cannot be found they will be built. These warehouses will then be bonded by the Hirsch syndicate and placed in charge of a representative of that company.

On cotton stored in one of these bonded warehouses, it is planned to issue certificates, guaranteed by the company, and made absolutely safe. These certificates, it is intended, may be used anywhere in the civilized world as collateral. They are to be transferable.

The establishment of such bonded warehouses and the issuance of guaranteed certificates would, beyond question, it is believed, greatly facilitate the handling of the cotton crop in the south. With such certificates in its possession, it is pointed out, a bank need not borrow money in any section of the country where the rate was found too high, but if necessary could send its securities to India, China, Japan, or almost any other foreign country where the rate of interest chanced to be low, at the time, and thus secure the benefit of this low rate of interest, something impracticable under existing circumstances.

At the time Mr. Sully and Mr. Dalgleisch were in Atlanta, the matte had not been brought to the notice of the Chamber of Commerce. Attorney H. N. Randolph, member of the Chamber of Commerce committee on commerce, learned of the matter, however, and brought it to the attention of President Fred Paxon. Mr. Paxon believed the general plan a good one, one calculated if put into operation to do much to help the south finance the cotton crop, and so asked the chamber committee on railroads to consider the matter together with the committee on commerce.

The two committees met yesterday afternoon, adopted a favorable resolution, and at a meeting of the directors held immediately afterwards, the chamber's stamp of approval was put on the general plan, without committing the chamber to Mr. Sully's scheme in particular, however.

Marconi Operator Flashes News That Man Wanted for Alleged Murder of Actress Wife Is On Board With Miss Leneve---Canadian Officers Awaiting Montrose.

On Board the Steamship Montrose, at Sea, by Marconi Wireless via Father Point, Quebec, July 28.—Associated Press, New York: Suspected persons answering the police description of Crippen and Miss Leneve on board. No arrests made. Other passengers, who are all continentals, in ignorance of the situation.—Llewelyn Jones, Marconi Operator.

The foregoing message from Llewelyn Jones, the Marconi operator on the steamship Montrose, was received in New York late tonight in response to an inquiry sent by wireless earlier in the night. It confirms, apparently, the belief of Scotland Yard that Dr. Crippen and his stenographer are aboard the vessel.

Father Point, Quebec, July 28.—The captain of the steamship Montrose, nearing this port after a voyage across the Atlantic, flashed to the colonial government at Ottawa today a wireless message in which he said, according to apparently authoritative reports here, that he had incontrovertible evidence of Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen's presence aboard.

It is the first wireless communication received from the Montrose on this side of the Atlantic and it was guarded with almost impregnable secrecy. Yet the reports here, which would not down, said that the skipper had wired that he was sure of his man and asked for instructions.

Scotland Yard Guessed Right.

If correctly interpreted, Scotland Yard's guess thus becomes a reality, for since leaving English ports it has been suspected that the Montrose carried the American dentist sought in connection with the disappearance of his actress wife, Belle Elmore, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Since there is no one aboard who

PAID HER $40,000 TO QUIT HUSBAND

But Rued Bargain When He Wedded Baroness.

Rich Cincinnati Man Now Trying to Compel Return of Money --- Foreign Wife Swoons in Court When Husband Fails to Recognize Her.

Cincinnati, July 28.—Percy Procter, member of the wealthy Cincinnati firm, appeared suddenly in court here today and faced his wife, the former Baroness Nadine Von Klifuss, for the first time in many months. Under his failure to recognize her, his wife promptly swooned.

Procter instituted the case, in which he testified today, to stop the transfer of $40,000 worth of stock which his wife claims was given her in furtherance of a marriage contract made in Berlin before the American consul.

Gave Note for $40,000.

By this agreement, which Procter acknowledged, he was to settle upon her 200,000 francs, the marriage to take place when she had succeeded in divorcing the Baron Von Klifuss. Shortly thereafter, however, the baron died.

Procter, on taking the stand in his own behalf, acknowledged the genuineness of the contract, and said that he gave a note for $40,000 in fulfillment.

Her family asked for "something tangible," he said, so he put up the stock "as collateral," and the marriage took place in London, October 14, 1909.

"It was understood that title to the stock was to remain in my name, and that my wife was only to have the income from it," he testified.

Accused His Wife.

Procter, under oath, then charged the former baroness and Joseph De Wyckoff, a solicitor of London, with being parties to a conspiracy to obtain not only the stock in question, but also all the money possible to be obtained from him.

Leaving the courtroom, Procter and his wife were followed by curious spectators, many of whom elbowed their way close to the couple as they walked down the street, Mrs. Procter pleading with her husband in French.

SAYS SMITH SENT TROOPS ON CALL OF MILL MANAGER

In June, 1908, He Sent the Lindale Company to Aragon to Get Negroes.

CROWD HAD DISPERSED WHEN TROOPS ARRIVED

Former Senator W. C. Bunn, at Organization Meeting of Brown Club, in Discussing Durham Mines Trouble, Points to Aragon Incident as Precedent Set by Gov. Smith.

Cedartown, Ga., July 28.—(Special.) An incident in the administration of former Governor Hoke Smith similar in many respects to the recent Walker county affair, has just been recalled to the people here by Hon. W. C. Bunn, a former senator from this district.

In an address at the organization of the Joe Brown Club, Mr. Bunn referred to the action of the former Governor Smith in sending the Lindale company to Polk county to protect the lives of two negroes who had been guilty of public indecency. The troops were sent at the request of C. H. Gorton, manager of the Aragon mills. No request was made for the troops by the sheriff of the county nor of deputy sheriff. The Lindale company was the same company ordered to Walker county by Governor Brown.

Subject of Editorial.

The facts in connection with the disorder at the Aragon mill settlement are recalled by hundreds of people of this county. This week's issue of the Cedartown Standard contains an editorial calling attention to the affair, and it has created something of a sensation.

Former Senator Bunn in addressing the gathering of Brown supporters took the position that there was nothing wrong in the action of Governor Brown in sending troops to Walker county to protect lives and property, and that he might have done so on his own initiative and without any request from any state officer.

The facts in connection with the Aragon mill affair as they have been gathered from the deputy sheriff at the mills, R. M. Brumbelow, and from Judge F. A. Irwin, of the city court, and Sheriff J. E. Dempsey are as follows:

"On June 23, 1908, while Hon. Hoke Smith was governor of Georgia, word was received at the Aragon mills that two negroes had attempted to assault two white girls about a mile from Aragon. Special Deputy Sheriff Brumbelow, stationed at the mills and paid by the company, went to the place of the alleged crime and arrested the two negroes and brought them to Aragon. A crowd gathered and there was some excitement. The manager of the mill, C. H. Gorton, telephoned to the executive office at Atlanta and requested that troops be sent to Aragon to protect the negroes and prevent disorder.

Crowd Had Dispersed.

Before the troops arrived the two white girls involved in the trouble were brought to Aragon, and their

$5,100 IS GIVEN CITY BY COUNTY

Boards of Education Reach a Settlement.

Money Is Given the City as Result of New Territory Taken in by Extension of City Limits, Forcing City to Care for 1,750 More Children.

That a successful settlement had been made of the dispute between the city and county boards of education in regard to the state appropriation for education in those districts recently made a part of the city was announced by Judge Kontz yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education held in the Boys' High School.

The sum of $5,100 will be paid by the county to the city in view of the fact that the latter, in extending its borders, has relieved the county of the expense of educating about 1,750 children, and is therefore entitled to a share of the fund appropriated by the state for educational purposes.

The board also listened to a delegation of prominent negroes, headed by H. H. Proctor, pastor of the First Congregational church, colored, who presented two petitions asking for increased facilities in the colored schools and higher pay for negro teachers. The board was impressed with the worth of both papers and passed resolutions that they be presented to the city council with the indorsement of the board.

As the city does not, in most of these cases, own the school sites, it is impossible to build additions. The board practically agreed, however, to furnish additional teachers if the negroes could procure additional seating accommodations.

The report of the finance committee was then accepted in full. One of the features of their report was the gift of Forrest Adair to the city of a school lot on Katheryn and Maryland streets, in the Bonnie Brae community.

Decrease Reported in Only One County.

Prosperous Conditio.is Evident in All Sections of Georgia. 44 Counties Report a Total of 40,217 Dogs--Big Counties Have Not Yet Reported.

Forty-three counties in Georgia have reported gains on their tax digests amounting to $7,308,144. Forty-four counties have reported 40,217 dogs.

With one hundred and two counties yet to be heard from, the record of prosperity for the state the past year has already been established. Only one county has reported a decrease. That was Lumpkin, and the decrease was $54,169.

No reports have been received from any one of the six big counties. It is expected that the returns from Fulton will exceed the gains of the forty-four counties which have already reported. The detailed figures taken from the reports made to the comptroller general follow:

$22,000 OFFERED TO WIDEN STREET

Marietta Street Improvement a Certainty.

Only $5,000 Needed and This Amount Will be Quickly Raised---Practically All the Owners Have Agreed to Give the Necessary Ten Feet of Land.

The backers of the movement to widen Marietta street from Foundry to North avenue will go before the street committee of the city council this afternoon with a report which it is believed will convince the committee that the proposed improvement on Marietta is no longer a matter of doubt, but a reality. The report will show that of the 3,850 feet on the north side of the street 3,119 feet have already been donated, and that of the $27,000 needed to remove and renovate the buildings, $22,000 is already available.

Only one owner of a frontage of 100 feet on the north side has declined to grant the necessary 10 feet, while the owners of 621 feet have not yet been seen. The majority of them are at present out of the city, but several of these have already signified their hearty approval of the plan.

The cost of removing and remodeling the buildings which stand in the way of widening the street will approximate $27,000. The city council has already passed up $13,000 for the improvement of this portion of the street. President Arkwright, of the street railway company, has subscribed $5,000, and the property owners on the south side of the street have subscribed $4,000. This leaves only $5,000 to be raised, which can be done without serious trouble, it is believed.

The agreement was that those on the north side of the street should donate the land, while those on the south side should subscribe the funds nessessary for removing the buildings.

Councilman Winn, who is a member of the street committee, states that he feels certain that the showing the property owners will make will be ample to convince the street committee that the street is to be widened in the immediate future.

WANT CITY HALL AS LABOR TEMPLE

Reported Proposition Is Now Being Considered.

Price Put on Building Said to Be $60,000---City Will, of Course, Dispose of It When It Moves Into the Old Postoffice Building.

The Atlanta Federation of Trades, according to authentic reports current at the city hall, is considering the question of purchasing the present city hall building, which is owned by the city, and converting it into a labor temple.

It is well known that the federation has for some time had under consideration the question of building a labor temple in Atlanta, and a large sum of money has already been subscribed for that purpose.

When it became apparent that the city would get the old postoffice building for a city hall, it is stated the question of securing the present city hall for a labor temple was taken up.

It is said the city hall building can be secured for $60,000. It is owned by the city, which purchased it from the chamber of commerce in 1901.

The members of the committee which has in hand the matter of securing a labor temple refused to discuss the report when asked about it, but at the city hall the matter is current gossip.

It is generally thought the building would make a splendid one for the purpose in view.

Harvest Time

You don't need to worry this late in the season about the other fellow's crop, but you are deeply concerned that your own labors for the last eight months shall be gathered in this short harvest season.

Isn't it true that frequently your profit for the year is determined in these fall months?

How important, then, that you should cut all the corners and get the best market advantages.

Go to New York—yes, that's a bigger town than Atlanta, but it's not a whit better market for the average merchant of the South.

Here you find big stocks and the strongest competitive prices.

Atlanta has the most diversified line of Manufacturing Industries South of Philadelphia—hundreds of articles you may buy in New York are made in Atlanta—you save the freight both ways.

Our Big Department Stores are in themselves a liberal education in the Arts of Commerce; they give all visiting merchants a glad welcome.

If this is to be a "close to shore" season, Atlanta's advantages to you as a near-by market are doubled.

If you have never been here, this is the season to begin; you can come as our guest, if you have to buy a Season or an opening bill.

Suppose you drop a line asking more about it to testimony convinced the crowd that nothing more serious than public indecency on part of the negroes had occurred. The girls were unharmed. The crowd became quiet and shortly afterwards dispersed.

When the Lindale company, which had been ordered to the scene of the trouble on request of Manager Gorton of the mill, arrived about 1:30 everything was quiet. They immediately boarded their special train for Rome, carrying the two negroes with them.

Affidavit of Brumbelow.

The account of the affair as given by Deputy Sheriff Brumbelow is contained in the following affidavit made before a notary of the peace in Polk county:

Georgia, Polk county:

"In person comes before the undersigned, Officer R. M. Brumbelow, who, on being duly sworn, deposes as follows, with reference to the sending by former Governor Hoke Smith of the troops of Company E. Fifth infantry, National Guard of Georgia, stationed at Lindale, to Aragon, in Polk county, Georgia, in 1908, to suppress a supposedly threatened riot:

"I have been a citizen of Polk county, Georgia, practically all my life, and live now and have lived for many years at Aragon, Ga., where is situated the Aragon cotton mills, a large plant. For twelve years I have been a special deputy sheriff located at Aragon and paid a salary by the Aragon mills to act a special deputy sheriff. The town of Aragon is not incorporated, and has no marshal. Prior to the period above named I was for many years a regular deputy sheriff of Polk county.

"On or about the 23rd day of June, 1908 (I cannot give the precise date from memory, but I know that his excellency, Hon. Hoke Smith, was governor of Georgia at the time), word came to Aragon and to me that two negroes had attempted to commit rape on two white girls about a mile from Aragon. This was about 9 o'clock a. m. I summoned help and started out to arrest the negroes. In about 40 minutes my posse and myself had arrested the negroes. I carried the negroes to Aragon and carried them upstairs over the commissary store where there is a large hall, and I guarded them there. There was long distance telephone connection in the same building.

"I immediately tried to get in communication with J. E. Dempsey, sheriff of Polk county, who lived at Cedartown. I could not get Mr. Dempsey over the 'phone. There was considerable excitement and talk among the people at Aragon, and considerable threatening was made about lynching the negroes, but no actual effort was made to do this by the people. It did look like, however, there was going to be trouble for awhile. The people had begun to gather about the building where I had the negroes guarding them. Immediately after I had tried to get Sheriff Dempsey Mr. Charles H. Gorton, the manager of the mills, came to me and told me that there would be an effort made to lynch the negroes, and that he would communicate with Governor Smith and get troops sent there as quick as possible. He left to go downstairs to the long distance phone, and in a few minutes he came back upstairs to me and told me that he had talked with Governor Smith and that the troops would be sent at once, and that if I could hold the negroes two hours and a half the troops would be there. When he first spoke to me about the matter he told me that he had already been in communication with the governor.

"The Aragon mills employ white help, and it was the white men of the town and surrounding country that were gathering and some of them threatening violence to the negroes.

"The crowd sent for the two white girls to come to Aragon to identify the two negroes, whose names were Floyd Walker and Henry Ogletree. The girls came and it was then found that they were entirely unharmed and had not been attacked by the negroes. Their statement showed the case to be one of public indecency. The girls got there about 12 o'clock. The crowd then immediately became quiet and no further threats were made against the negroes and the crowd gradually dispersed. The soldiers of the Lindale company got to Aragon about 1:30 o'clock. Everything then was quiet and orderly. They took charge of the negroes and went with me and the negroes back on the special train to Rome, Ga., and then a squad of soldiers was detailed to go on with me to Atlanta, taking the negroes by the way of the W. & A. railway. I put the negroes in the Atlanta jail. The negroes were indicted and tried for a misdemeanor for the offense of public indecency and were convicted and given chaingang sentences for a short term.

"Just as the troops had left Aragon, going back to Rome, Sheriff Dempsey and Judge F. A. Irwin, judge of the city court of Polk county, and Solicitor General Fielder, came up to Aragon in a private conveyance, as I was informed. They had not arrived when I left with the troops and the prisoners on the train. I did not communicate with the governor myself, and did not call for the military and did not ask anyone else to do it. So far as I know, the call was made and Governor Smith acted on the call of Mr. Gorton, who now resides in Washington, D. C.

Same Company Sent by Smith.

Upon being asked about this incident Adjutant General A. J. Scott consulted the records in his office, after which he stated they did not contain the original request for the troops, as that went direct to Governor Smith:

"I find from the records," said General Scott, "that the Lindale company, in command of Captain H. P. Meikleham, was ordered to Aragon, Ga., June 23, 1908, by Governor Smith.

"Captain Meikleham's report states that the company proceeded to that point, took charge of the two negroes and carried them to Rome. Upon arrival at that point a deputy sheriff of Floyd county presented Captain Meikleham with Governor Smith's order to take the prisoners to Atlanta, which was done. Captain Meiklenam's report states that they found no disorder and that no attempt was made to molest the troops."

Southern Railway Dining Car Service Extended.

Full dining car service was inaugurated on trains Nos. 35 and 36, between Atlanta and Birmingham, effective June 26. This in addition to dining car service east of Atlanta. Train No. 35 leaves Atlanta 9:20 a. m., arrives Birmingham 12:40 noon and handles through Pullman sleeping car to Colorado Springs. WALKER HANGS TODAY FOR RECENT HOLD-UP Appeal Saves for Time, at Least, Other Three Negroes.

Only one instead of four negroes will be hanged in the DeKalb county jail this morning at 11 o'clock to expiate the murder of Motorman T. S. Brown in Druid Hills some months ago. Charlie Walker is the negro who will go to the gallows. An appeal has saved, for the time at least, the lives of Charlie Julian, Jim Black and Ed Weaver, who were sentenced to hang today also.

Walker, after having confessed his guilt on three different occasions and later made denials, made what will probably prove to be his last denial Thursday, when he solemnly vowed that he is innocent of the crime. He told a fairy story about two white men disguising themselves as negroes and in company with two negroes, doing the work, while he (Walker) looked on without taking any part. He told this story to his attorney.

NO STATE HELP FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Counties Must Support Their Own Schools.

Mr. Hall Leads Fight Against Bill to Allow State to Give Financial Assistance to High Schools, Should People Authorize Them.

If the action of the house of representatives yesterday afternoon is to be accepted as an omen of what the senate will do, the state of Georgia will not place itself in position to be called on to make appropriations for the purpose of maintaining high schools which may be established by the various counties of the state.

After passing a constitutional amendment Thursday morning providing that the counties of the state may be authorized to establish high schools and levy a tax for the purpose of supporting them, the house Thursday afternoon defeated the bill providing that the legislature, should it so desire, could also make appropriations to assist in maintaining the high schools after they are established.

The bill providing that the legislature might appropriate money for the maintenance of such high schools established by the counties was introduced by Mr. Persons, of Monroe. Its acknowledged purpose was to so amend the constitution that the state might assist in maintaining the county high schools when they are established.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, opposed the bill on the ground that should it be passed the counties of the state, after establishing high schools, would not levy a tax to support them, but would depend on the state for an appropriation. Although he favored the bill previously passed, allowing counties to levy a tax for the maintenance of high schools, he was opposed to placing the state in a position where it might be called upon to support them altogether.

This argument, which was also advanced by other members of the house, proved effective and the bill was defeated by the vote of 104 to 23. It lacked 19 votes of securing the necessary 123.

BASKETS OF BABIES THAT CAUSED JARS

of jars—two jars as well as two baskets.

A few days ago, right here in Atlanta, in July, a negro preacher secured two very young negro babies from families that were too poor to raise kids, and he kindly consented to take them to a charitable home. He placed them in two baskets and started on his trip. En route he stopped to make some purchases in a store and left the baskets of babies on the sidewalk. Somebody heard a baby cry and notified the police who took the baskets of humanware in custody and carried them to the Grady Hospital.

When the story was told to the internes at the hospital they decided that it was a good chance to play a joke on some of the nurses and so they carried the baskets into the children's ward and placing them on a table, told the nurses present:

"Here are two baskets of nice peaches for you."

Then, so the second chapter of the jars goes, the nurses gathered about the table and one of them removed the covers from the baskets to get at the peaches—

Tableau!

In the meantime, as the stories about Little Jimmie say, the old negro preacher missed his baskets and babies and began a wild hunt for them. He tracked the police and found his charges at the hospital just about the time the nurses were about to eat them up for peaches.

36 REAL ESTATE MEN JOIN THE ASSOCIATION

The membership committee of the Atlanta Real Estate Men's Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which almost 40 names of new members were added to the organization's roster. As there were 97 charter members of the association this brings the total well above the 125 mark. The committee meeting was held at the office of Chairman Carlos Lynes.

Following are the names added to the association's roster of members at the meeting:

T. W. Jackson, Fourth National bank building; M. C. Kiser, Inman building; L. H. Zurline, care S. B. Turman; John L. Harper, care Sturgeon; W. H. Allen, 8 West Alabama street; E. G. Black, 8 West Alabama street; James L. Logan, 8 West Alabama street; B. M. Grant, Empire building; Albert S. Adams, care B. M. Grant; C. L. DeFoor, Empire building; D. C. Lyle, Empire building; R. C. Eve, 12 South Broad street; E. S. Kelly, care Charles P. Glover; T. H. Simmons, R. M. Mitchell, 24-A South Broad street; M. R. McClatchey, 211 Candler building; Charles Herman, T. E. Lockhart, 608 Empire building; J. N. Renfroe, L. W. Little, A. J. West, A. J. McBride, W. J. Greene, Grant building; J. I. Christian, Grant building; J. H. Whitten, care M. L. Thrower; W. B. Stovall, Newton S. Thomas, L. C. Green, A. D. Thomson, Thomson & Lynes; C. D. Epps, care Thomson & Lynes; Van B. Smith, care Thomson & Lynes; Earle R. Greene, care Thomson & Lynes; M. L. Petty, Eugene Southwick, 1020 Candler building; E. Rivers, 8 West Alabama street; M. G. Couch, 8 West Alabama street.

RAN IN FRONT OF CAR; BOY PAINFULLY HURT

Julius Brown Smith, 7 years of age, of 579 Marietta street, was knocked down and painfully bruised by a Marietta street trolley car at Marietta and Corput streets last night at 7:15 o'clock.

A wagon preceded the trolley and it made so much noise in traveling over the Belgian blocks that Julius, who was waiting for it to pass in order to cross the street, did not hear the street car coming, it is said.

The motorman saw the boy as he darted across the tracks and quickly applied his brakes. Although the lad was knocked down the motorman's quickness prevented a more serious accident. Julius was taken home.

to have his wishes heeded by the convention.

The latter faction maneuvered, argued, shook their fists at the chairman and at the other side, while those who were bent on nominating Lind howled, hissed and completely blocked the proceedings until by sheer force of noise and enthusiasm they won their point and secured the nomination.

No County Option Plank.

On the matter of resolutions there was no contention except for a plank on county options. The committee on resolutions heard the resolutions offered by the county optionists and then voted them down and inserted a plank declaring for the initiative and referendum, which, the committee declared, would answer the same purpose.

On national issues the platform condemns President Taft for failure to keep his pledges, denounces the retention of Richard A. Ballinger as secretary of the interior after the exposure of his methods and declares it to be a national scandal, deplores the discharge of Gifford Pinchot from the office of chief forester as a national crime and commends the republican insurgents of Minnesota for their vote on the Payne bill.

The platform also demands the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

A certain candidate who has no opposition is urging the election of one of the old commissioners (a clever gentleman and my friend) on the ground that he can't accomplish anything with green timber on the board. Where was he seasoned? Isn't it just a little early for him to be picking out his associates on the board? Delicacy ought to forbid this egotism. He has tendered the county his services, now let them determine for themselves whether he is sufficiently seasoned before he offers to dictate who shall sit with him at the county's table and dish out the revenue. Being in the real estate business himself, he enough to abstain from the appearance of combinations. Let the people measure the man and vote for the best qualified, and if you want a man that hasn't got a collar and will "stand hitched" when the county's money is being spent, vote for

ARCHITECTS APPOINTED FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Buildings Will Be Ready for Occupancy by Fall of 1911.

Architects who are to draw the plans for the new school buildings to be erected with the $600,000 appropriation authorized by the bond issue were appointed by the joint committee of the bond commission and the board of education at a meeting held in the Boys' High school yesterday morning the appointments were the result of a recent competitive contest.

The assignment of the work of preparing plans is as follows: Twelve-room schools, Lee street, E. E. Dougherty; Walker street, Harry Leslie Walker. Eight-room schools: First ward, on Ashby street, Harry Leslie Walker; Second ward, corner Georgia avenue and Formwait street, Harry Leslie Walker; Third ward, Hill and Kelly streets, Harry Leslie Walker; Fourth ward, block bounded by Forrest avenue, Rice, Randolph and Fortune streets, E. E. Dougherty; Fifth ward, block bounded by English avenue, Pelham Chestnut, and Fox streets, Edwards & Walker; Eighth ward, State street and Home Park avenue, E. E. Dougherty; Ninth ward, Narth avenue near Highland, E. E. Dougherty; Negro school on Yonge street, E. E. Dougherty; Ninth ward, North which will replace the old buildings of the Crew and Fair street schools will be planned by E. E. Dougherty and H. L. Walker.

In no case will the cost of the building exceed $40,000. It is believed that the buildings will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall of 1911.

IN RACE FOR MAYORALTY SAYS STEVE JOHNSTON

Makes Positive Announcement of His Intention to Run.

"I shall be in the race for mayor," said Steve Johnston positively yesterday afternoon. "and I believe I shall be elected. I did not intend to make any statement until after the gubernatorial campaign was over," continued Mr. Johnston, "and I certainly shall not do any active work until then."

For a long time past Mr. Johnston's friends have been urging him to become a candidate and since last Friday, when it became known that he was considering the step, he has receivd many promises of support. "In many cases," said Mr. Johnston, "this support has come from a totally unexpected quarter."

WILL FIX DATE FOR CONVENTION

The executive committee of the Southern Commercial Congress will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 10 o'clock this morning to fix a date for the convention of the congress, which is to be held here some time this year.

The Southern Commercial Congress, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., has for its object the exploitation of the natural resources of the south. Its convention here will be one of the most important conventions Atlanta will have during the year.

NO CUT IN WAGES IN THIS TELEGRAM

Livingston Men Call Mr. Howard at His Own Meeting.

Lithonia, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—As William Schley Howard was addressing a gathering here last night, in which the stonecutters of this section figured largely, he asserted that Congressman Livingston about the time the contract for the new federal building was let, had sent a telegram to the secretary of the Stonecutters' Union that they would have to submit to a cut in the scale of wages. To substantiate his declaration Mr. Howard drew from his pocket a telegram, saying:

"I hold in my hand that telegram. It was addressed to Jack McGahee, then secretary of the Stonecuttters' Union here. That telegram reads:

"'Have secured granite for use in the new postoffice building. You boys will have to submit to a cut in wages.'"

In the audience was Mr. McGahee, who declared that the telegram read by Mr. Howard was not a copy of the one sent him by Congressman Livingston, adding that the telegram he received read:

"I have secured granite for the new postoffice building. Don't be caught in a trap."

Mr. McGahee then stated that the original telegram was still in existence and was in the keeping of Secretary Wilson, of the Stonecutters' Union. Secretary Wilson would have been present at the meeting with the telegram, but was detained at home by a death in his family.

Mr. McGahee's correction of the telegram as read by Mr. howard was received with loud cheering by the Livingston friends who were present.

CRIPPEN AND GIRL SAILING TO ARREST

knows Dr. Crippen personally, it may mean that he has confessed his identity.

After the receipt of the message here the wireless operator began sending messages to the Montrose. They are supposed to have been instructions coming from Ottawa, but nothing of their text could be learned.

Officers Are Waiting.

At this little settlement on the south bank of the St. Lawrence, 160 miles east of Quebec, three officers of the provincial police are literally sitting at the feet of a wireless operator waiting for word from the steamship Montrose, which is supposed to have aboard Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Miss Ethel Leneve, the stenographer, with whom he fled before the discovery in London of the body believed to be that of Belle Elmore, his wife.

Unless the wireless brings news that absolutely upsets all expectations, these detectives will board the Montrose when she takes on the pilot to direct her course up the St. Lawrence. And, at any event, they will confer tomorrow with Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, who is aboard the White Star liner Laurentic. The Laurentic is expected here before noon.

Murder Is the Charge.

The warrant charging Crippen with the murder of a woman still unknown is carried by Chief McCarthy, of the provincial police of Quebec. Upon Inspector Dew, Chief McCarthy and his assistants rely to identify the suspected passenger of the Montrose, if he really is the man they seek. Since Dew has no authority to make the arrest, however, it is supposed that he will continue on the Laurentic to Quebec, leaving to the Canadian detectives the task of taking their prisoner to him for identification there. His mission, also, in addition to identifying, is to take Crippen back to England.

Crippen on Board.

Quebec, July 28.—The following wireless message was received tonight by The Chronicle from Point Amour:

"7:31 p. m:—Crippen on board Montrose, inward bound, 200 miles east."

The dispatch is presumed to be a wireless message from the steamer Laurentic.

A second wireless message received this evening was from Inspector Dew. It was addressed to Detective Walsh, and asked him to obtain leave from the immigration and marine authorities here for the landing of Dew at Father Point. The necessary permit was granted.

THEATERS

At the Lyric.

"The Princess of Patches" continues to attract large audiences to the Lyric theater, where Miss Emma Bunting is appearing in the title role, and everyone, especially the ladies, declares that she is "just too cute for anything" in this part. The laughter starts with her first entrance, which is made in a barrel, and keeps up until the final fall of the curtain. Next Monday night Miss Bunting and her company will offer "Salomy Jane," a play by Paul Armstrong, which was originally written for the use of Miss Eleanor Robson.

At the Casino.

There will be but four more opportunities to witness the vaudeville acts making up the bill at the Casino. The bill this week is every bit as good an entertainment as has been offered in any theater ever devoted to vaudeville in this city. Rosa Naynon's trained birds are wonderful if it was ever true that "this act alone is worth the price of admission," it is true in this case. The birds are beautiful, the act is wonderful and original.

Uncle Luke's Birthday.—In celebration of the seventy-fifth birthday of "Uncle" Luke Wood, of Riverside, the descendants of that lovable "young" man will hold a family reunion Monday, August 1, at Grant park. His descendants are quite numerous and they all call Mr. Wood "Uncle Luke." Each year his birthday is observed by a reunion of the family. Dinner will be carried along in baskets. Among the Atlanta children of Mr. Wood are Mrs. E. L. Jett, wife of the assistant chief of police, Mrs. R. L. Smith and Mrs. Lizzie Davis.

Hosiery Specials for Today

Colored Stockings are quite the fad this summer. They match the frock, or if worn with a white dress, harmonize with the sash and sleeve ribbons. Colored slippers are quite correct, but the smart footdress shows light colored or white hose and low cut, fancy slippers of black. Economical this is, too. You can have plenty of stockings, all colors, and wear them with the same slippers.

Today we're going to have some fine colored hose on special sale. These are lisle thread of good quality. Regular 50c and 75c values. Today they'll be 35c or . . . . . 3 pairs for $1.00

Women's plain black silk hose with lisle interlining thru heel, toe and sole. Regular $1.25 quality. Today $1.10

INVESTIGATE CHARGES MADE ABOUT HOME FOR OLD WOMEN

The probe into the charges of mismanagement and of cruelty at the Home for Old Women, which were made by former inmates and sponsored by the Georgia Libbey Circle, began yesterday afternoon at the Kimball House at a meeting which was kept from verging into sharp personalities only through the strenuous efforts of Miss Kate C. Hall, secretary of the King's Daughters.

The features of the first day's session were an attempt to eliminate from the investigation J. H. Dodgen, attorney for the Georgia Libbey Circle, the challenging of voters in both the Gordon Circle, which has charge of the home, and the Libbey Circle, which called for the probe, and a passage of words just before adjournment on the value of the evidence submitted.

Object to Attorney.

The afternoon developed many crises which required the nicest of handling and the greatest of tact, and Miss Hall proved herself equal to every emergency.

After the meeting had been opened with prayer by Rev. John E. White, the formal charges against Mrs. Purtell, as leader of the Gordon Circle, were made, the Gordon Circle having announced that Miss Arion Purtell, daughter of Mrs. S. J. Purtell, had been chosen to represent the circle.

Miss Purtell's first move was to object to the presence of Attorney Dodgen, declaring the Gordon Circle had been invited to attend a friendly meeting and not a legal inquiry. The vote on her motion resulted in the challenging of a number of members of both circles, challenges later being withdrawn at the earnest request of Miss Hall.

Miss Purtell then said it was manifestly unfair to expect the Gordon Circle to answer in five minutes charges which the prosecutors had taken five months to prepare and asked that her circle be given an equal amount of time to make answer. She asserted that the time had been maliciously and cowardly chosen by the Georgia Libbey Circle when they knew that all the influential members of the Gordon Circle were absent from the city.

Clash at Close.

As the meeting drew to a close it was enlivened by a clash between Mrs. Eichberg, an associate member of the Gordon Circle, and Mrs. Ballard, of the Georgia Libbey Circle.

Mrs. Eichberg said that inasmuch as the charges against Mrs. Purtell practically amounted to accusing her of theft and severely attacked her character, more conclusive proof should be submitted and that letters written by common old women should not be accepted as final evidence.

Mrs. Ballard was on her feet immediately with the declaration that she resented the statement of Mrs. Eichberg in calling the old women low down, and that she wished to protest. Then several people began to talk at the same time and it was practically impossible to understand any of them. Miss Hall was hammering violently with her gavel and several women were calling "Shame, shame." Finally Miss Hall restored order and in a few minutes the meeting adjourned after being in session for over three hours.

Another meeting will be held at 10 o'clock this morning. Practically the only thing accomplished on the first day was to formally acquaint the Gordon Circle with the charges against it.

SPLENDID SUCCESS STAMPS FIRST CONCERT OF DR. STARNES

Fully demonstrating for the first time the wonderful possibilities of Atlanta's great organ, the first appearance last night at the Auditorium-Armory of Dr. J. Percy Starnes, secured by the Atlanta Musical Association as city organist for the coming year, was a most auspicious one.

Dr. Starnes kept the audience, which comfortably filled the immense Auditorfum, in constant delight at the ease with which he showed his complete mastery of his instrument. Working faultlessly for the first time since its installation, largely due to Dr. Starnes' work on it since the first of July, the magnificent organ responded with wonderful effect to the touch of the organist.

Dr. Starnes' work stamps him as one of America's greatest organists, and under his direction the series of concerts which are planned by the Atlanta Musical Association will undoubtedly attract attention in musical circles all over the country.

In talking after the concert for the association, R. S. Wessells, who has worked so earnestly in its interest, expressed the delight of the officers at the unqualified success of Dr. Starnes' first appearance.

Taking Dr. Starnes from a $4,000 church position in New York city, at the price of a $5,000 contract, the association has planned for Atlanta a series of thirty Thursday night pay concerts and thirty-three Sunday afternoon concerts.

In order to put these concerts on firm basis it will be necessary to sell 1,600 of the $5 season tickets to the pay concerts. Hundreds of the tickets were subscribed for after the concert and the probability is that when the reservation of seats is opened on August 1 the number stated will be practically sold.

CO. M., FIFTH INFANTRY, ISSUES A CHALLENGE

To Entire Fifth Georgia Military Academy and Marist College.

If the challenge of Company M, Fifth infantry, national guard of Georgia, is accepted there will be a three-cornered competitive drill on the night of Labor Day. The Constitution holds the following challenge:

"Company M, Fifth infanty, national guard of Georgia, hereby challenges the entire Fifth infantry, national guard of Georgia; also to the Georgia Military Academy and Marist College for a competitive squad drill to take place in the Auditorium-Armory on the night of Labor Day. The squad is to consist of seven men and a corporal, to be drilled by a non-commissioned officer. The winner to receive 75 per cent of the gate receipts and the second best 25 per cent.

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR HORSE SHOW

Ten Thousand Dollars to Be Offered in Prizes.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the annual horse show, which will be held October 18-21. This year the show will be on an unusually large scale. Ten thousand dollars is to be offered in prizes and a number of the most famous stables of the south have already signified their intentions of competing for honors.

Arrangements are to be made to have the Rough Rider drill of last year repeated and army men will have a prominent part in the exhibitions.

Georgia Libbey Circle.—The Georgia Libbey Circle of the King's daughters and Sons will meet with Mrs. M. E. Melton, 135 Rawson street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

INGENUITY EXERCISED BY SCOUTS IN FORDING SWOLLEN STREAMS

By Frank Weldon.

Brunswick, Ga., July 28.—(Special.) The direct route from Brunswick to Waycross should by all means be marked by sign boards.

A thousand settlement, lumber and gum roads cross and recross the main road which at times is scarcely more than a trail. A tract of thousands of acres, from which the timber has been cut, stretches east and west on the south side of the Satilla river. Often one travels a mile or two without seeing a house. There is not much danger of being lost. If one keeps going he will come out all right but he is liable to go several miles out of the way and to miss the best roads. The motorist is surprised to find miles of firm, smooth road among the scrub and second growth pine.

There is just enough sand at intervals to test one's driving ability. A wide gauge car takes the ruts and goes through this easily. Out pathfinder is 56-inch tread and has to split the ruts. Consequently, the driving is harder.

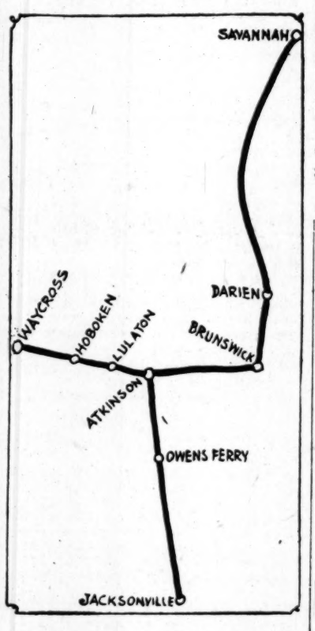
This champion hill climber has power and performs beautifully. The way this Buick fords streams is remarkable.

It goes through the water like a duck. In normal times, there is no water in these roads but heavy rains have been falling all over central and south Geofgia for weeks and the streams are unusually high. They will probably be back to normal again in a few days, but the scouts did not want to tie up anywhere and wait. So we kept pushing along. When we came to a stream one or two would get out and wade in to take soundings. Unless the water was more than knee deep, we covered the front end with a rubber coat, protected the carburetor and went through on low gear. Bucking does not get as satisfactory results as moving slowly and steadily without changing the clutch. Time and again the fly wheel would splash up through the bottom of the car. Once on Tuesday when we approached a stream between Schlatterville and Hoboken, in Pierce county, we engaged a pair of mules in advance from Arch Crews, a farmer living near. Two of his sons rode the mules and pulled us through deep water 175 yards across.

Some Hoboken boys told us that the streams had not been so high since "deer killing time" until a few days ago. A tour through this section is entirely practicable in the fall.

The pathfinding trip is arousing interest in the construction of a road leading from the coast back into the interior. Brunswick needs such a road because it would bring her so many more visitors. Brunswick will never be much of a resort point so long as she has to depend on the railroads, but if she could get a good motoring road leading to southwest and north Georgia, and also the road connecting Jacksonville and Savannah, thousands of tourists would come here summer and winter. North Georgians seem to favor St. Simons to all other southern coast resorts. The people who have cars are the ones who patronize resort places. It seems, therefore, to be up to Brunswick, for her own future, to help all she can to get a touring road from here to Waycross.

The authorities of Pierce and Wayne ought to cooperate with those of Glynn and Ware. A fine highway can be built across these counties at very slight expense and it would be a great factor in developing this section. For miles and miles the country looks desolate now, but one good, well-defined road through there would bring in settlers. Where the land is tilled it yields well. Sea island cotton looks better down here than short staple looks up country.



Proposed link from Waycross to Brunswick in route to be traversed by 'round-the-state tourists. Proposed route of interstate highway from Savannah to Jacksonville is also shown.

HARDWICK'S RECORD ATTACKED BY EVE

Augusta, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—O. R. Eve spoke to some 600 people in the fifth ward here tonight, saying he had refrained from permitting personalities to get into his campaign and would adhere to that policy throughout.

He vigorously attacked Mr. Hardwick's record. It is understood Mr. Hardwick will speak here Saturday

District Trustees to Meet.

Cartersville, Ga., July 28.—(Special.) The district trustees of the schools of Bartow county will meet in annual convention at Taylorsville, in this county, Saturday, August 5. This meeting will be a very important one. The county has been so fortunate as to secure the services of two state school officials for a large part of their time. For the help and instruction in the school work, Hon. M. L. Duggan, commissioner of Hancock county, and R. H. Powell, state supervisor of rural schools, will be present and deliver addresses.

NEW TERRITORY AT ATLANTA'S DOOR

Splendid Report on Ducktown Made by Merchants and Manufacturers.

"We expected, from reports, to find Ducktown a desert; we landed on a delightful oasis; and, besides, Atlanta has found a lot of new territory right at her door."

This was the report of the committee from the Atlanta Merchants and Manufacturers' Association who returned yesterday morning from a visit to Copperhill, Tenn.

A dozen of Atlanta's busiest men closed down their desks and took the Wednesday morning train for Ducktown. They went upon the invitation of the Tennessee Copper Company, and the trip was a revelation to every member of the party. Some of them, when road salesmen thirty years ago, had traveled through this country before the day of railroads.

Speaking of the reason of the trip, President J. K. Orr stated that the invitation was accepted largely on account of the extreme courtesy with which it was presented.

"This large company, which is just across the line from Georgia, had expressed a desire to better know the merchants of Atlanta, and the trip certainly resulted in extending Atlanta's business acquaintance in a most delightful way," he said.

"The average citizen of Georgia, at the mention of Ducktown, turns up his nose as he would at the remembrance of the old sulphur match. He has visions of the Sahara desert, so he begins to look when within 10 miles of Ducktown for some evidence of this blasting, wasting hillside, and is surprised at the abundance of green vegetation and the new growth of trees.

"Drastic legislation of a few years ago has proved a benefit in disguise to the Copperhill company. They immediately began a study of the question, and decided that the objectionable fumes might be distilled into a commercial product, the result of which is a by-product of 800 tons daily of sulphuric acid, having a market value of about $10 per ton, and selling entirely to the guano factories of the south.

"In other words, the smoke has been scientifically treated, and brings an enormous revenue to the stockholders of the copper company, at the same time adding $1,200 per day to the receipts of the Louisville and Nashville railroad and an incalculable dividend in the fertility of thousands of broad acres in Georgia and the south. In a few years the mining of copper will be the by-product and sulphuric acid the main output.

"The history of this industry discloses the tradition that old man Ben Duggar, who was for many years a well-known character in the Georgia legislature, owned all of the property. He tried to develop the iron furnaces, but decided that the ore made such poor iron that he sold the principal hill for a 'small gray pony.'

"Fifty years ago, the black ore, yielding about 40 per cent, was hauled to Cedartown, but the yellow ore, now so abundant, only yields 2 per cent. Copper is largely mined now on account of the value of the by-product found in the acid.

"The objection raised a few years ago was largely due to the fact that the company burned the ore in an open fire, like a washerwoman heats her kettle, and this smoke may have affected the surrounding vegetation; but all of this has been changed.

"The investment of the two copper companies is estimated from three to five million dollars. They have a monthly pay roll of $120,000, or nearly a million and a half a year is distributed by the two principal plants.

"Copperhill is equal distance from Knoxville and Atlanta, yet Atlanta has not received anything like its share of this profitable business. It is believed by the people of Copperhill and Ducktown that if the present afternoon train that stops at Blue Ridge could be continued 12 miles further, to Copperhill, it would insure them a profitable patronage from this thriving community, who would certainly like to come oftener to Atlanta. It now takes over two days to make the round trip.

"The splendid department stores of this city would find this a fertile field to greatly increase their business.

"The society side of Copperhill was splendidly represented at a beautiful dinner-dance at the Cowanee Club given our party. The dinner had a Delmonico flavor, and would be a credit to any of the swell clubs of the south. This club was created largely by the company for the entertainment of its officials and leading employees.

"The Atlanta party, in a special car, was sent to Blue Ridge on a special train to make connection with the morning schedule to Atlanta, with delightful memories of not only a great industry, but pleasant recollections of the swellest mining camp in the south."

A RELIEF FROM CATARRH.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure Has a Long Record of Many Cures of This Stubborn Disease.

More than half the people of this country suffer with Catarrh, and because it does not wholly incapacitate them they do not give it any attention. This is a serious mistake, as in most cases it becomes chronic and difficult to control, and finally undermines the constitution.

If you have the slightest bit of Catarrh you should immediately treat it with Eclipse Catarrh Cure. This remedy will give immediate relief and often cures when every other remedy fails.

Read this voluntary testimonial:

Eclipse Med. & Mfg. Co.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sirs:—

I have used a package of your Eclipse Catarrh Cure and it gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to your already large list, for the remedy did me more good than anything I have ever tried.

It is certainly the best thing for Catarrh that I have ever seen, and I shall take pleasure in recommending it to all my friends who suffer from this disease.

Very truly yours,
MRS. ADLINE HALL,
Samantha, Ala.

For twenty-five cents in stamps we will send you a sample of Eclipse Catarrh Cure—enough for you to judge of its curative properties. If you use it you will become convinced that it is the medicine you need. Regular packages by mail $1.00

Knights to Give Barbecue.

Cartersville Ga., July 28.—(Special.) Cartersville lodge No. 42, Knights of Pythias, will give a barbecue to their families and guests at Meadowview, the beautiful home of Ruohs Pyron, near the city, on Thursday, August 18. This barbecue is an annual event of the Cartersville lodge, and is always looked forward towith much pleasure by the members of the lodge and their families.

LAD QUITS PARENTAL ROOF TO ESCAPE A FLOGGING

Athens, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Because his father threatened to chastise him for "letting the cow out of the lot," "Gip" Simmons, a 9-year-old boy living in the country near Tallulah Falls, has run away from home and trudged to this city, a distance of more than 80 miles, on the route he took on foot, and is now at the detention ward of the city prison here awaiting news from his parents.

He was accompanied by Lossie James Pollard, a neighbor's son, about his own age. The lad explained yesterday to the police that he was making his way to the home of an uncle, Frank Simmons, living near Winterville, in the southern edge of this county.

CHANCELLOR BARROW AWARDS DIPLOMAS

University of Georgia Summer School Closes a Successful Term.

Athens, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—The concluding exercises of the eighth session of the summer school of the University of Georgia occurred tonight in the chapel.

Three hundred and thirty-five students have taken either the full course or a selected, adapted course at this term of the school for teachers. One diploma will be delivered—the others received tonight their certificates. Chancellor D. C. Barrow delivered these certificates and made a strong address to the students—almost all of whom are teachers in the common schools of the state. The program was pleasantly varied tonight with numbers from the Walters orchestra, vocal song selections from Miss Gottleib and a pretty Indian club drill by Miss Ford.

Professor Woofter, who has had in charge the generni superintendency of the summer school this year, has been voted the unanimous expression of appreciation for the exceptionally good program which has made the stay of the students here for the past five weeks pleasant and profitable.

DECISION OF COURT REINSTATES GAMBLE

Judge Brand Announces Opinion in Clarke County Clerk Case.

Athens, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Judge C. H. Brand has announced his decision in the now celebrated commissioners' clerk case of Clarke county—practically reinstating former Clerk John B. Gamble. While the decision of Judge Brand reinstates Mr. Gamble, so far as the opinion of this court affects the status of the case, it will be carried, without doubt, to the supreme court.

The case will be well remembered as having direct bearing on the contest between Clarke county and Terrell county over the possession of a number of convicts which Terrell had allowed Clarke to work. The commissioners vacated the office of clerk and elected Tate Wright. Protest was filed at the firing of Mr. Gamble, on the grounds that no specific charges had been preferred and that he had, therefore, had no opportunity to have a hearing. Injunction was granted temporarily to allow the commissioners to take charge of the books and papers of the office. Quo warranto proceedings were filed by Mr. Gamble inquiring into the right of Mr. Wright to hold office.

The two cases were heard by Judge Brand.

REV. JESTER ASKS DATA OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Rev. J. R. Jester, pastor of the First Baptist church at Shawnee, Okla., has written to the Associated Charities here for information concerning its plan of work. Mr. Jester formerly lived in Atlanta. He states that he writes because he has noticed the great work done by the Associated Charities in Atlanta, and feels the need of a similar organization in Shawnee.

ALARM IN JACKSON OVER NUMEROUS FIRES

Robberies Followed by Torch Creates Terror on Gainesville Midland.

Athens, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Stations on the Gainesville Midland railway, between this place and Jefferson are experiencing a reign of terror on account of the depredations of an unknown party who is setting fire to buildings and burglarizing the country stores in that section of Jackson county. Last night the store of G. S. Hardy at Redstone was broken open and the cash drawer rifled of its contents—only a few dollars being taken, however.

The night before the residence of Mr. John Seegars, at Clarksboro, was burned to the ground, evidently the work of an incendiary. The house was just being completed, having been finished all but the plastering and some inside work.

The citizens of those settlements are aroused over the commission of these crimes and are exerting every effort to track down the guilty parties.

WELL-KNOWN WOMEN HURT IN RUNAWAY

Mrs. J. Beneson and Mrs. Mike Beneson Injured at Moultrie.

Moultrie, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—In a runaway this evening Mrs. J. Beneson, of Moultrie, and Mrs. Mike Beneson, of Andalusia, Ala., were thrown from the former's buggy and painfully injured. Each of the ladies had their smallest child, and the children were thrown against the curbstone, where the vehicle was demolished, and received painful injuries.

The full extent of the injuries have not been given out by the family physician, but they are understood not to be serious.

ATLANTA, GA., July 29, 1910.

"Harmony" in Ohio hit Nick Longworth pretty hard.

A look downward ought to make prices dizzy enough to fall.

Oyster Bay still has the megaphone that's heard around the world.

So much Prosperity in Georgia, the pathfinders are running over it.

However, the Taft limp is not responsible for the halting gait of his party.

Men who perspire to gain office may not find it a first-class place to keep cool.

The "angel" in politics should have wings big enough for the party to levy on.

Indirectly, the seaside boarder has to pay for the airship flight. Hence, it comes too high.

The excuse of the modest Private Citizen is that he has to run the country publicly.

Mr. Bryan is a great traveler, and may pick up a new party any old time, in the big road.

The tariff boomers cannot prevail against the hot roast of both the weather and the people.

It is said that Roosevelt had 2,000 requests to 'break his silence." He did so with one blow.

A Roosevelt vacation means—keep busy every day, and sleep with one ear open to the night-bell.

The husband whose wife makes him wear a strait-jacket should retaliate with a hobble-skirt.

Roasting the ice trust doesn't pay. It charges us just as much for a melted streak in the atmosphere.

By 10,000 pages of testimony against the powder trust, the government gives the paper trust a great lift.

When a tariff orator is at a dead loss for an argument he has nervous prostration, and blames it on the weather.

Politicians of both parties are coming to know that they can't joy-ride over the people every day and Sunday, too.

The Colonel will not kill songbirds, but this immunity doesn't apply to poets seeking to break into his magazine.

The fogs President Taft encountered on his trip were doubtless blown in from the clouded issues of his party.

Speaker Cannon is being lashed by the limelight, but he will not fail to remember that he commenced with it first.

The officeholders are away from Washington. What a fine chance for the people to take charge and get something done!

As sky pilots, the aviators will never preach long sermons from aeroplane pulpits, their business being to burn the wind.

They sell eggs by weight in New York. The country will be financially ruined if that fad extends to the petrified cold storage hen.

If the ultimate consumer takes Taft's advice and two months' vacation, he may hope to capture a position in the living skeleton class.

PEACH GROWERS MUST FORCE THIS ISSUE.

Failure of the railroads to provide sufficient facilities at the right times and places has cost the peach growers of Georgia $100,000 this year, according to the estimate of General Manager I. M. Fleming, of the Georgia Fruit Exchange. These figures are supplied as the minimum. The probability is the eventual showing will be incomparably more formidable.

Responsibility lodges somewhere for the sidetracking of this great sum that has been earned and lost by the peach growers of the state.

Exactly where culpability rests The Constitution does not undertake to say. The railroad commission could easily find out. But The Constitution does know that reimbursement is due the peach growers under the law, and that they are entitled to it.

Suggestive light is thrown on the situation by the statements and non-statements of the railroads directly involved in the recent car famine in the fruit belt.

The Southern Railway, making a frank statement of its share in the transaction, holds that it is entitled to a virtually clean bill, so far as inflicting damage on the growers is concerned.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, with similar candor, issues an authorized statement indicating that its skirts likewise are free of blame.

Inferentially, they lay the blame on the Central of Georgia railway, the only other line handling cars out of the peach territory.

If neither the Southern nor the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic is responsible for the negligence that has cost the fruit growers of the state all this money, then the Central must be, and its representatives offer no statement at this time, intimating that an explanation may be forthcoming at some date placed in the future.

Regardless of all statements and counter statements and refusal to make statements, the peach growers of Georgia are due restitution for the losses for which they are in nowise responsible.

If the railroad commission is itself powerless, it can at least discharge a primary duty by pointing the way through advice and direction to these mulcted peach growers.

It is incumbent upon the peach growers, in sheer self-preservation, to make the issue right now, and to establish so unmistakable a precedent for compensation as to hereafter deter any railroad from allowing negligence or indifference to take tribute from this great industry.

STORM CENTERS THREATENED.

With interest in the issue of whisky regulation brought gradually to a national focus, political developments in the adjoining middle western states of Iowa and Nebraska take on fresh significance, from whatever angle the observer views the situation.

In the democratic state convention, held recently in Nebraska, Mr. Bryan lost his fight to restrict the traffic to county local option and the advocates of township local option had their will.

Now comes Iowa, next door to Nebraska, declaring, through its democratic convention, for township and municipal local option as the restriction unit, with a well-defined high-license proviso.

Defending the plank embodying this principle, Chairman of the Resolutions Committee Martin Wade, said: "Where a majority of a community desires liquor they should have it, and vice versa. That is personal liberty, gentlemen, and it is democracy."

Whether or not the action taken successively in Nebraska and Iowa is to set a precedent for other middle western states is, of course, as yet an open question.

More interesting still is the speculation as to how many other democratic conventions will follow the lead of Nebraska and Iowa.

There are elements here that threaten breakers ahead and if this issue is to become a dominating question in party counsels over the union generally, as it is in Nebraska and Iowa, it will require more doctors to patch the bruises that will follow than can be found in the ranks of the party.

State-wide prohibition is one thing, and local option by counties is another thing.

Local option by communities and townships is still another thing, and however this may work in the west, it will never be acceptable to the south.

As a party question, there are several very dangerous storm-centers threatened in this issue.

THE PLAZA HEARING THIS AFTERNOON.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the Western and Atlantic committee of the house of representatives holds a hearing upon the proposed plaza, or civic center, for the city of Atlanta.

Gauged by business and common sense, there is only one side to the project, and that is affirmative, so far as the state of Georgia is concerned.

The state is asked only to authorize the use of its right-of-way through the heart of Atlanta for the main strip of the plaza, and for the new terminals with which it is proposed to supplant the present apology for a passenger depot.

Not one penny is required, directly or indirectly, from the treasury.

On the other hand, it is proposed, in exchange for use of the right-of-way, to deed over to the state, in fee simple, a magnificent depot and office building at the expiration of a term now estimated at twenty years.

Apparently, the offer is one in which the state has all to gain and nothing to lose by acceptance.

Judging from the ratio at which the income from central property in Atlanta appreciates, it is difficult to forecast the revenues to the state from the property to revert to it at the end of the building period.

That is to touch only the commercial phase. The aspect of prestige is equally important, since Georgia is vitally interested in having the heart of its capital city made as attractive as possible.

It is to be hoped the committee will make a favorable report, and that the house and senate will speedily enact the measure.

SLATON ATTACKS POLITICAL TRICKERY.

Senator John M. Slaton is right in his position on the blanket Confederate service pension measure now pending in the legislature.

The measure removes all restrictions as to survivors and their widows. It is estimated that, if approved by the people, this particular constitutional amendment will add between $250,000 and $500,000 to the state's pension budget.

Mr. Slaton showed that it would be absolutely impossible for the state's treasury to meet the requirements of this amendment, unless the constitutional tax limitation of 5 mills is increased.

He declared that he could not gain the consent of his conscience to vote for the measure unless the people were simultaneously required to vote on the question of a constitutional amendment raising the tax rate that the terms of the project might be executed.

An attempt to jam through a plebiscite of this nature without providing means to make it effective is a demonstration of cheap political trickery that defies fit classification.

It is nothing less than an outright deception of the taxpayers, an effort to trade upon their well-known and commendable love for and loyalty to the Confederate veteran to curry a little political capital under false pretenses.

It is this sort of inexpressibly cheap and spineless maneuvering that brings the word "statesmanship" into contempt.

One would think the very obviousness of the play would deter an effort to foist it upon the people.

DOES THE COLONEL MEAN IT?

A dispatch from Oyster Bay, of that kind that bears the unmistakable earmarks of being personally inspired, now declares that Colonel Roosevelt proposes to ignore factional, even party, lines in the coming conflict and that his support will go to the best men and measures.

It is true that the spirit of independentism, a very healthful spirit, too, is on the increase in this country. But is it possible that the colonel has outvied the most radical of the independents in setting a new "farthest north" of voting without regard to party alignment?

The deduction is hard to credit. Despite his occasional vagaries, Colonel Roosevelt has always been what is known as a "party man" when it came to the ultimate showdown.

The intimation that henceforth he expects to invade the ranks of any and all parties for men and measures that chime with his convictions, means one of two things:

That the colonel was again "misquoted"—

Or that, feeling the pulse of the people, he has despaired of harmonizing the republican party and is looking to the establishment of a new independent movement.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

You Get Back Again.

Sometimes leave Trouble on hilltop and plain,
But your ticket's a round trip: You get back again!

Could you travel as far
Even as star is from star,
You'd get back again, lad,
You'd get back again.

Perhaps, in the garden where world-troubles grow
There's a flower that you love, there's a dream that you know.

And the flower—it will seem
Like the dream of a dream;
Oh, you get back again, lad,
You get back again.

The Mountain's pretty high, but you can climb it; and after you reach the summit you'll discover that the loud thunder didn't mean half it said, and that lightning, like people you have known, is too quick to jump at conclusions; while the Mountain top itself hasn't one dream as sweet as those in the violets of the still valleys.

In a World Where Trouble Stays.

Down comes the weather, but still we wear a smile:
We just congratulate ourselves we'll burn not yet a while.

None of us will blaze
'Fore the app'inted days;
An' it's better still to travel
In a world where Trouble stays.

Down comes the weather; but take it at its best:
There's some enjoyment in it, from the shiny east to west.

Oh, none of us will blaze
'Fore the app'inted days;
An' it's better still to travel
In a world where Trouble stays.

Read His Title Clear.

This one, on "a member of a southern legislature," is told by a writer in the People's Magazine:

"When the time came for the renomination the member sauntered down to the corner store one night to sound out the opinion of his townsmen as to whether he should be sent back to the capital of the state as a lawmaker. 'Well, boys,' he said to the assembled politicians, 'what about it?' There was an embarrassing pause. 'Speak right out, fellows,' he encouraged the meeting. 'To tell the truth, Sam,' said one of the crowd, 'we've decided that, judging from what this here county got out of the legislature while you were there, we mought as well have writ a letter.'"

"But," objected the graduate, "I can't go down there and run that farm. I don't know how to raise anything."

"You know how to raise the devil," said the old man. "Go there and raise him, then get up a camp meeting to run him out o' town, an' ef that don't keep you busy, your case is hopeless."

Advice to a Candidate.

A FAR-REACHING SUGGESTION ON THE COTTON QUESTION

Editor Constitution: When McKinley was a young congressman he was told one day the way to attain distinction was to became an expert in some one line of endeavor, and since he had a tendency for figures and liked tariff discussions, he was urged to become proficient in the tariff. McKinley followed the good advice of his friend and because of it was finally made president of the United States. A bigger thing is up for consideration, perhaps, than the tariff was in McKinley's day, and the stateman who can do for Uncle Sam the proper thing in the department to be assigned him will most assuredly be the idol of the whole people, the biggest man in all Christendom.

Today we are devoting 30,000,000 acres of our fertile farm lands to the production of a crop of such importance its exportation keeps our whole country from being in debt to countries from which we buy things. Were it not for this single product our sales of material to foreign people would not equal our purchases in distant lands.

Just imagine the condition of our fiscal affairs under such conditions, and compute the increase in the tariff, the tax to be paid by the people, that this deficit might be met. This product is, in the main, shipped out of our country, and people residing abroad manufacture it into finished goods and supply with great profit, the people in all lands with necessary goods. For example, England uses about one-fourth our annual crop and from this fraction exports nearly $500,000,000 worth of goods, while our exportation of finished goods of the same material is less than 10 per cent of that amount. Our revenue from the exportation of the raw material exceeds England's exportation for one-fourth of our crop only about $100,000,000.

We are talking about cotton!

The need of a statesman is in the interest of cotton. It needs a champion, and never more so than now. The fertile brain, the courage to oppose a full knowledge of the industry are in demand. The interests of the men who spin the lint stop not in their efforts to depress the price short of the president's official family. The arguments of those interested in lower prices are always plausible, as the lies of plausible men always are. Facts and figures are bent and twisted into any desired shape and the garland of plausibility hung thereon in such pleasing fashion as to absolutely convince the man in position that white is black. How could it be otherwise? The man in position knows in truth no more about cotton economics than a hog does about preaching. Why should he? He has studied law or politics or what not, neither one having reference to the profund study embraced in the cotton industry.

A statesman is needed to set the whole people aright concerning the cotton industry. To make this great industry a study and to be relied upon at all times to defend, to enlighten, to guard the credit of the United States by protecting the interest of the greatest staple produced in the world.

Why should we farm that England and Germany may spin and weave, obtaining from the products of a single state as much money as we get from eleven states? That's what England is doing, and has been doing for years and years. Texas grows 3,000,000 bales and more, and England consumes 3,000,000 bales, and exports nearly $500,000,000 worth of cotton goods annually.

The statesman I have in my mind will note these facts and will ask congress to pass a law restricting the exportation of cotton to manufactured goods. He will present his case to the whole people because the people throughout the United States are interested.

It is a nation-wide question, no imaginary line of demarcation segregates this industry. It is a question involving the credit, regulating the purchasing power of the United States, bearing directly upon the well-being of man, woman and child, and such a law will place the present high tariff without a logical advocate and in a measure will aid in solving the high cost of living.

Gossip at the Capitol

B. M. Blackburn, a clerk in the executive office at the state capitol, continues ill at his home on Spring street. He has been in bad health all the winter, but has been confined to his room since Saturday, but will probably be out within a few days.

The secretary of state yesterday granted a charter to the Augusta Fire Insurance Company of Augusta, Ga. The company is capitalized at $150,000, and the incorporators are Thomas Barrett, Jr., Percy E. May, W. E. Bush, John R. Burke, all of Augusta, and W. K. Kitchens, of Summerville.

Governor Brown yesterday offered the following rewards

For Ike Heard, who, on July 17, 1910, killed John Carmichael in Sumter county, the sum of $150.

For unknown parties who burned the barn and outbuilding of Eugene Roberts, of Appling county, in December, 1909, the sum of $150.

For the parties who robbed the store of Samuel Garob, of Sumter county, on May 14, 1910, the sum of $150.

GOVERNOR'S CONTEST.

Will Take to Obituary Column.
(From The Dalton Argus.)
The Hoke Smith News will take to the obituary columns after August 23.

A Change in Policies.
(From The Rome Tribune-Herald.)
Hoke tried to bulldoze the voters before, now he's trying to educate them.

Will Be "Little Joe" by Himself.
(From The Athens Banner.)
After the primary it will be Joe Brown my himself, for the people are going to indorse his splendid administration.

The Sweet-Tongued Ex-Governor.
(From The Dalton Argus.)
How sweet-tongued the ex-governor has become. He sees the abuse of his political opponent excludes a large majority of the people's votes.

Hard Up for Issues.
(From The Macon Telegraph.)
They are hard up for issues to work against Governor Brown when they try to work that Durham mine business.

The Hokeites' Waterloo.
(From The Walton Tribune.)
Judge Hart says the people want war. Yes, the Hokeites have declared war, but they will go up against a Waterloo in August.

That Is Too Bad.
(From The Dalton Argus.)
Hoke Smith says that it was Alabama that beat him last time. Georgia will do it this time. That will be too bad to be beat in two states.

Watch Out, Governor.
(From The Rome Tribune-Herald.)
By the way, they haven't said "Little Joe" was ugly a single time during the present campaign. Watch out, governor, they are trying to hoodoo you.

He's the Man We Want.
(From The Charlton County Herald.)
It is beginning to look like Joe Brown will be governor of Georgia two more years. He is the man we want to look after the state's affairs.

Is Hoke Capable of Such?
(From The Valdosta Times.)
When Guyt McLendon says that one of Hoke's schools of thought is a "night school," are we to understand that he thinks Hoke capable of doing things in the dark?

Some Clear Logic.
(From The Commerce News.)
It was said that Hart's entry would help Mr. Smith. This statement was made by a paper that always tells the truth, the plain naked truth. Accepting the statement as the truth now that Hart is out of the race, his retirement will naturally strengthen Little Joe. If that is not true, then we are blind to logic and reason.

Can't Find Better One.
(From The Charlton County Herald.)
Governor Brown feels his highest duty to the state, and you will find him at the capitol attending to the state's business. We cannot find a man that is more interested in the welfare of the people and will make a better governor than "Little Joe."

Always on the Job.
(From The Athens Banner.)
Governor Brown is going quietly along attending to the business of his office as if nothing like a gubernatorial race were on. He knows that the people of the state are fully acquainted with him and his work and rests his race with them. And they are going to reelect him on August 23.

Joe Brown Caused the Rain.
(From The Augusta Herald.)
The farmers should also remember that it was not until Joe Brown was governor that there was so much rain that they couldn't kill the grass in their cotton. Even if this be only a coincidence it is a bad one, which it is best to avoid the danger of being repeated.

A Good Doctrine.
(From The Cherokee Advance.)
This is not a campaign of men, but measures. If you believe in what Mr. Smith stands for, live up for him. On the other hand, if you believe in Mr. Brown, stand for him. You can support your candidate without insulting your neighbor or your friend and you must do so.

Is Sure of Decisive Victory.
(From The Fitzgerald Leader.)
J. R. Smith says that in this year of grace, under the regime of "Little Joe," there is so much business—good, sound, solid business—that he felt that he could not spare the time, when first approached, but that he is heart and soul for the present governor, and has accepted the management of his campaign with enthusiasm and confidence, and is sure of a decisive victory for Brown and prosperity.

Couldn't Find Any Such Law.
(From The Valdosta Times.)
Hooper Alexander wanted Governor Brown to turn over the papers in the Chattanooga terminals case to his little committee of "partisans." But "Little Joe" Brown is too smart for folks of the Hooper type. The governor says that if the legislature wants them they can get them, but there is no law on the books which authorizes him to give them to a committee.

Working Men Taking Live Interest.
(From The Augusta Herald.)
The workingmen of Georgia are taking a lively interest in public matters and will be heard from in the present state primary. It is reported that the labor leaders of Atlanta predict a great change of sentiment from Brown to Smith, and that the changes from this vote alone will be enough to give the county of Fulton to Smith by a safe majority, estimated at 2,500.

Those Political Spellbinders.
(From The Savannah Morning News.)
The impression is abroad that about the most active workers for Hon. Hoke Smith are the Atlanta drummers. They represent Atlanta wholesale houses that want port rates—that is, lower rates from the ports to Atlanta. There is even a suspicion that the Atlanta wholesale merchants had a great deal to do with getting Mr. Smith into the campaign. That being the case, it is easily understood why the Atlanta drummers are distributing Smith campaign literature and playing the part of spellbinders in their tours through the state.

A Few Questions.
(From The Dawson News.)
See if he has made good. Has not his quiet, conservative administration of affairs been fruitful of good results? Do his opponents now not pay him a great tribute by trying to adopt his methods? Where is the "oratory" with its threats and denunciations? Where are the charges that were hurled against him two years ago? Does anybody believe the people of Georgia wish to swap conditions today (which may not be perfect) with those which existed during the two years before Governor Brown penned those ringing words?

THROUGH SECRET ORDER MAN GETS HIM A WIFE

Although Rule Was New One. Member of Douglas Lodge Did His Duty.

Douglas, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—A short time ago a letter was received by a member of one of our secret orders from a member on the distant plains of Kansas. The letter stated that the writer was in correspondence with a Douglas young lady concerning whom certain information was desired.

Playing detective for the court of Cupid was a new role to the recipient of the letter, but as he was abjured by certain "signs, tokens and gripe" and reminded of his obligation to "aid" a brother in his laudable undertakings, he was forced however reluctantly, to satisfy the love-smitten brother.

He wrote back that she was here and all his fancy painted, possessing many graces of person, mind and heart.

As a result Mr. Haber, of Kansas, appeared upon the scene yesterday and today Douglas has lost in Miss Grimsley one of her fairest daughters.

SOUTHERN MACHINIST IS CRUSHED TO DEATH

Chesterfield Bohanon Meets End as He is Leaving Work.

Just as he was preparing to leave his work for home at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Chesterfield Bohanon, of 214 East Georgia avenue, a machinist for the Southern railway, was caught between an engine and a water tank in the round house at Inman yards, and his skull horribly crushed, death resulting almost instantly.

Bohanon was only 20 years of age. He was a member of Company C, Fifth Georgia regiment, and was with his regiment at the recent encampment at Chickamauga.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bohanon; three sisters, Misses Jessie, Thelma and Mabel, and three brothers, W. F., Joe and Paul.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield, and later to the residence, where the funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

ARRANGING FOR SHOOT AT CATOOSA NEXT WEEK

Teams Making Best Scores to Be Selected for the National Shoot.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 28.—Col. Harvey Alexander, assistant adjutant general of Tennessee, is here today to arrange for Tennessee militiamen taking part in the rifle shoot at Catoosa, Ga., next week, preparatory to the national shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, to begin August 15.

At the Catoosa shoot, regimental teams of fifteen men making the best scores will be selected for the national shoot in the former contest, a regimental trophy now held by Company E, Third Tennessee regiment, will be awarded. The first regiment won this medal two years ago and the third last year.

In addition to this, there will be the secretary of war's trophy for the fastest rapid-fire run, the General Irby Bennett and Berry-Palmer medal for individual shooting.

PROPERTY VALUES SHOW VAST INCREASE

Substantial Gains Reported by Receivers of Tax Returns.

Moultrie, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Tax Receiver J. S. Simmons completed the work of compiling the tax returns of Colquitt county today and the total reached $4,582,949. The total of 1909 was $4,263,216. The net gain, $319,733.

The net gain does not fairly represent the large increase in value of developed lands of the county, as there has been a big dropping off in timber and saw mill property for two or three years, as the mills are cutting out and moving away.

Wilcox County.

Abbeville, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Wilcox property values have increased $373,405 during the past year, according to Receiver of Tax Returns Dennard. This is a substantial gain.

There are 937 dogs returned for taxation.

In 1909 there were 1,569 poll tax payers, 13 lawyers and 13 doctors.

In 1910 there are 1,712 poll tax payers, 9 lawyers, 16 doctors and one dentist.

AMERICUS PLANT CANS 3,000 LBS. OF TOMATOES

Say They Will Buy More If Farmers Will Bring Them.

Americus, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Three thousand pounds tomatoes will be canned today at the plant of the Raymond Orchards Company, near Americus, and this "run" of a thousand cans will be followed by others if the fruit is to be had here in quantities sufficient to interest the canning company.

This is a new business here, comparatively, but one which should be a very remunerative one.

Captain C. W. Raymond said yesterday that his plant had one single order for eight hundred 3-pound cans tomatoes, and he will buy other lots of this fruit if the farmers will bring them to him.

NINETY-POUND RAIL FOR MACON BRANCH

Southern Making Extensive Improvements---Large Engines to Be Used.

Juliette, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Many improvements are being made by the Southern Railway on its line between Atlanta and Macon. Several steel bridges have recently been completed on this line and several others are now being built.

New ninety-pound rails are being laid between Atlanta and Macon and when the work of laying these is completed larger engines will be placed on the Macon and Atlanta division.

Work will soon commence on a new depot at Jackson and it is very probable that a new depot will soon be built here as the citizens of this town are agitating the need of a larger depo

Martha Paxston Bell.—Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bell, of 683 Highland axenue, are receiving congratulations over the birth of a daughter who has been christened Martha Paxston Bell.

Major Eubanks Home.—Major Ed Eubanks of the Georgia state militia, who has been at Fort Riley, Kansas, for nearly six weeks studying gunnery, and who was at Chickamauga during the encampment of the state troops, has returned to the city.

Dr. Newton to Lecture.—Rev. Dr. J. C. C. Newton will give an illustrated lecture on "The Brownies of Dai Nippon," or "A Tour in Sunrise Land" at the Wesley Memorial church Sunday night. Seventy-eight new, hand-painted slides will be shown. Dr. Newton has been for twenty years connected with the work of the Southern Methodist church in Japan. There will be no admission.

Oakland City Services.—The Oakland City Baptist church will have preaching by Rev. W. C. Taylor, of Royston, at the home of Dr. S. T. Whitaker, Oakland avenue, Oakland City, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The public is cordially invited to be present, and a full attendance is urged. For several weeks no services have been held by the Oakland City Baptist church because the church building is incomplete.

His "Hurrah" Got Him Fined.—While his mind was in the grip of near-beer stimulation Wednesday night, John Clarke, a white man, walked down Edgewood avenue screaming at the top of his voice: "Hurrah for Joe Brown!" His enthusiasm for the gubernatorial candidate brought out a large crowd, and it wasn't long before Clarke was locked up in the police station, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was fined $10.75 when brought before Recorder Broyles yesterday afternoon.

Son of a Sheriff Bound Over.—S. R. Coleman, aged 18 years, son of Sheriff W. R. Coleman, of Columbia county, South Carolina, was bound over in police court yesterday afternoon under $500 bond, charged with cheating and swindling and forgery. It was alleged that he gave a bogus check for $25 to H. W. Garrett, of 30 East Cain street, for law books, and swindled the Southern hotel for a small board bill, operating under the name of W. J. Wilson. The young man's father was informed of his son's arrest several days ago, but was not present in court when the boy was arraigned.

CIRCUS SEATS FALL; TWENTY ARE INJURED

Supports Give Way and 200 Persons are Caught in the Crash.

Richmond, Ky., July 28.—More than a score of persons were injured, five seriously, today when the reserved seat section collapsed under the tent in which a circus was exhibiting.

Without warning, the supports to the top tiers of seats gave way and about 200 persons were caught in the crash.

Immediately officials and employees of the circus, aided by cool-headed spectators, began extricating the crowd from the wreckage and a threatened panic was prevented.

$300,000 WANTED FOR OLD MANSION

Mr. Hall Would Buy New Mansion and New Executive Building.

A proposal to sell the old executive mansion on Peachtree street for $300,000 and buy a new one in a section more attractive for residences, and to erect out of the proceeds a building for the use of the executive officers of the state, has been made in a resolution introduced in the house by Mr. Hall, of Bibb.

A resolution largely similar in purpose was introduced in the senate on Wednesday by Senator Mathews.

Mr. Hall's proposal looks to the appointment of a commission of two from the senate and three from the house to handle the sale of the old mansion property and the erection of the new buildings. The present state capitol building is extremely crowded, and there are not sufficient committee rooms to accommodate the various legislative committees of the senate and house.

It is provided in the resolution that the commission shall advertise the sale once a week for four weeks, in the newspapers of Atlanta, and that the sale may be either public or private. If public, it is to be held on the capitol grounds, but no sale is to be made unless a bid of $300,000 or over is made for the property.

If such a price is received for the state's old property, the commission is to lookout for a site on which to erect a modern, up-to-date home for the governor, and also a site for a building to accommodate the overflow from the state capitol.

The commissioners are to receive $4 a day for the time actually engaged in their work, and no other compensation.

JOS. F. GRAY'S CAMPAIGN TO BE ACTIVELY WAGED

Railroad Commissioner Opens Offices in Savannah--Answers Opponents.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Railroad Commissioner Joseph F. Gray's campaign for election to the office to which he was appointed following the ousting of Guyte McLendon will not be one to let grass grow under his feet.

Following his formal announcement of his candidacy he has opened offices in the chamber of commerce building here, and stenographers and clerks have been installed. The campaign will be active in all parts of the state and will be waged principally through a committee of one hundred scattered through the state.

Mr. Guyt, it is believed, will be elected by an overwhelming majority but his campaign will be waged just as if the opposition were very strong.

Mr. Gray in his announcement went into the questions that opposition to him has brought forward. It is not believed that his campaign will include addresses.

PARSONS TO OPPOSE SAUNDERS, DEMOCRAT

Fifth Virginia District to Be Scene of Another Lively Fight.

Rocky Mount, Va., July 28.—John M. Parsons, of Grayson county, was nominated today by the republican congressional convention of the Fifth district to oppose E. W. Saunders, of Rocky Mount, democrat.

Mr. Parsons was the republican nominee against Mr. Saunders two years ago, but on the face of the returns was defeated by 81 votes. A man, afterward adjudged insane, was certified as a candidate for congress, his name appearing on the official ballot. On this and other grounds, Mr. Parsons contested Saunders' election.

The elections committee of the house of representatives, just before the adjournment of congress, decided he was entitled to the seat held by Saunders, but the case was not called up on the floor of the house, and Saunders, therefore, still retains his place.

Wilkinson to Enter Race.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Alderman C. G. Wilkinson is mentioned as a candidate for the legislature from Chatham. It is stated that he may oppose Joseph McCarthy. The Chatham Joe Brown Club will support Wilkinson if he enters the race, it is said.

HIGH SCHOOL TAX PASSED BY HOUSE

Measure Allows Each County to Levy Tax.

Bill Must be Passed by Senate and Ratified by People Before Becoming Law--Lee Barron Completely Exonerated of Charges.

THURSDAY IN THE HOUSE.

Passed the bill amending the constitution so as to allow counties to levy a tax for the support of high schools.

Unanimously adopted the report of the committee on public property, which exonerated Lee Barron, keeper of public buildings and grounds, from charges of graft.

Defeated the bill making it possible for cities of over 50,000 population to abolish justice courts.

Accepted an invitation from President Slaton, of the senate, to attend a barbecue next Tuesday afternoon.

If the senate approves it, and the people of the state ratify it in the next general election, the constitution of Georgia will be amended so that counties desiring to do so may levy a tax for the purpose of maintaining high schools.

By the vote of 150 to 3, the house of representatives yesterday morning passed the constitutional amendment proposed by Mr. Persons, of Monroe, and which provides that counties shall be allowed to levy a tax for the purpose stated.

The constitution at present provides that counties may levy a tax for the purpose of supporting instruction in the elementary branches of education, but puts an inhibition on the levying of a tax for high schools. The bill of Mr. Persons makes it possible for a county to also maintain a high school, just as the city of Atlanta and other cities are now authorized to maintain.

Mr. Persons made a strong argument in favor of his bill, and when it was passed by such an overwhelming majority, he was warmly congratulated by his colleagues.

Barron Is Exonerated.

Shortly after the house convened, Mr. Keith, of Meriwether, chairman of the committee on public property, submitted the report of the committee relative to its finding in the investigation of charges of graft which have been made against Lee Barron, keeper public buildings and grounds.

As forecasted in The Constitution, the report completely exonerated Mr. Barron of any misconduct, and declared that the charges which had been made against him were totally unwarranted and without foundation.

On motion of Mr. Hall, of Bibb, the house adopted the report of the committee by a unanimous vote, and in so far as the house is concerned, the incident is closed.

President John M. Slaton, of the senate, submitted to the house his annual invitation to be his guests at a barbecue which he will give at the Cold Springs 'cue grounds, near East Point, next Tuesday afternoon. The house accepted the invitation by a rising vote.

The invitation of President Slaton included all members of the house and senate, the officers of each and the members of the press engaged in reporting the proceedings of the general assembly. Special cars will be provided for the occasion, and will leave the capitol from the Hunter street entrance Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Can't Abolish Justice Courts.

By the vote of 41 to 74 the house defeated the bill by Mr. McElreath, of Fulton, providing that cities of more than 50,000 population shall be authorized to abolish all justice courts and establish, in their stead, a limited number of inferior courts, with somewhat enlarged powers. This bill was a constitutional amendment, and had it passed both houses, would have been submitted to the people for ratification.

A resolution which will provide for the payment of stenographers reporting the proceedings in the Barron investigation by the committee on public property and the auditor auditing the accounts of Mr. Barron, was introduced in the house by Chairman Keith and was referred to the committee on appropriations. It provides that the sum of $200 shall be paid Stenographer A. E. Barnes, and that the sum of $60 shall be paid the American Audit Company.

At 12:45 o'clock the house adjourned to meet again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Bills Are Passed.

The following bills were passed in the house Thursday:

By Mr. Field, of DeKalb—To provide that neither an attorney nor a client shall settle a damage suit without the consent of the other.

By Mr. Jones, of Mitchell—To create a new charter of the town of Baconton.

By Mr. Fullbright, of Burke—To amend the act directing the publication of certain Georgia reports.

By Mr. Rosser, of Walker—To cede certain lands in that county to the United States of America for government roads.

By Mr. Faircloth, of Johnson—To amend the charter of Kite.

By Mr. Alley, of White—To prevent the killing of foxes during certain seasons in White county.

By Mr. Lawrence, of Chatham—To amend the laws relating to the city court of Savannah.

By Mr. Meadows, of Telfair—To require bonded officers of Telfair county to give surety of guaranty companies.

By Mr. Martin of Lee—To abolish the city court of Leesburg.

By Mr. Redding of Pike—To establish the city court of Barnesville.

By Mr. Henderson of Irwin—To amend the Ocilla public school system.

By Mr. Miller of Calhoun—To repeal the act increasing the board of commissioners of Calhoun.

By Messrs. Kirby and Couch, of Coweta—To provide for the payment of misdemeanor conviction costs by Coweta county.

By Messrs. Kirby and Couch, of Coweta—To amend the charter of Grantville.

By Mr. Meadows of Telfair—To amend the act establishing the city court of McRae.

By Mr. Miller of Calhoun—To amend the act creating the city court of Calhoun.

By Mr. Brown of Carroll—To amend the act creating the county commission of Carroll.

Senate bill—To incorporate the town of Alston, in Montgomery county.

Senate bill—To create the city court of Cuthbert.

Senate bill—To amend the act establishing the city court of Washington.

New Bills Read.

By Mr. Hubbard of Dawson—To amend section 5017 of the code.

By Mr. Guyton of Effingham—To regulate the catching of sturgeon.

By Mr. Wohlwender of Muscogee—To make state rewards for arrest of felons payable to officers.

By Mr. Miller of Calhoun—To define to open season for deer.

By Mr. Martin of Lee—To provide service by publication in cases of divorce.

By Mr. Guyton of Effingham—To pay pension of $60 to R. W. Tullis.

By Mr. Ford of Worth—To repeal an act to amend an act to establish the city court of Sylvester.

By Mr. Ford of Worth—An act to amend an act to establish the city court of Sylvester.

By Mr. Armistead of Oglethorpe—To amend the charter of Lexington.

By Mr. Reid of Macon—To consolidate the laws incorporating Marshallville.

By Mr. Felder of Lowndes—To require the working of public roads by county forces in municipalities of Lowndes.

By Messrs. Heard and Beacham of Dooly—To require fire insurance companies doing business without capital to use assessment plant of operations.

By Messrs. Brown, Alexander and McElreath of Fulton—To provide for the regulation of inspection and grading of hay.

By Mr. Reid of Macon—To amend the act creating board of commissioners of Macon county.

By Mr. Hall of Bibb—To provide for the sale of the governor's mansion.

By Messrs. Hullender of Catoosa, and Rosser of Walker—To authorize refund of $160 to W. F. Moon, a portion of tax paid for near beer.

DEBATE BEGINS ON REGISTRATION

Indications Are LawWill Be Amended.

Judging From Test Vote and Explanations Made During Debate, Time Between Close of Lists and General Election Will Be Cut.

THURSDAY IN THE SENATE.

Debate begun on amendment to the registration law.

Senator W. E. Collum sworn in as successor to W. D. Murray, of the Thirteenth, deceased.

Passed a score of local bills.

Received and accepted invitation to attend barbecue on next Tuesday as guests of President Slaton.

Received report of special committee on pension bill, recommending that provision for special tax levy of one-half mill be incorporated in proposed constitutional amendment.

The fight to amend the registration law began yesterday in the senate and the indications are that the measure will be amended so that the time between the close of the registration lists and the holding of the general election will be cut in half.

Under the present law the books close six months before the election. From a test vote taken Thursday and explanations made during its progress, it is apparent that the time limit will be fixed at 90 days. This will be 30 days before the primary election and three months before the general election in October.

Senator Jackson called the previous question on the amendment to the registration law even before the committee report on it had been read. He was admonished by President Slaton that the report must be received before the matter was properly before the senate.

Supporters of Law Organized.

The supporters of the present registration law were compactly organized and seemed to have a pretty definite understanding as to just what they would do. The plan was to prevent any consideration or debate on the proposed amendment.

Senator Jackson could hardly contain himself, and as the clerk reached the repealing clause in the proposed amendment he again sought and secured recognition and moved the previous question. Only one man who opposed any change in the present law spoke in explaining his vote. That was Senator Harrell. A number of senators who favored amending the law debated the subject under the rule allowing ten minutes to explain votes. They were Senators Calhoun, Griffith, Irwin, Longley, Mathews, McCurry, Slater, Sellers and Womble.

In speaking for the amendment proposed by himself and Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Slater said:

"As a matter of principle I believe it is better that the right of suffrage be abused than that it be restricted. Liberty is a God-given right. The right to participate in a democratic form of government is an inherent right."

He said it caused him surprise and pain to see fair, honest men seek to throttle debate on a bill of such supreme importance. Political partisanship, he said, "had warped the judgment of some senators and made them lose their reason."

Thousands Disfranchised.

Thousands of white men in the state had been disfranchised by the law advocated by Hon. Hoke Smith, he said, farmers, business men and professional men being among the number.

He continued:

"The entire press of the state, with the exception of the Atlanta Journal, which is controlled by one of the candidates for governor, is demanding the amendment of this law."

The report of the committee on the Slater-Calhoun bill was that it "do not pass." This led to some confusion later when the queston was put on disagreeing with the report of the commmitttee. While the debate on the question was under way and before the vote had been taken, the hour of 12:30 arrived and the special order fixed for that time was taken up.

M. E. Collum Sworn In.

Shortly after the senate met President Slaton announced that Hon. M. E. Collum, of Schley county, who had been elected as successor to Hon. W. D. Murray, deceased, was present and would be sworn in. Senator-Elect Collum came forward with Secretary C. S. Northen and the oath was administered by Judge Arthur G. Powell, of the court of appeals. Senator Collum served in the house from Schley county in 1896-7. He was Thursday named on the following senate committees: Education, penitentiary, state sanitarium, agriculture, public roads, corporations and University of Georgia.

President Slaton extended to the members of the senate and the newspaper men reporting the proceedings of the senate an invitation to atttend a barbecue at the Cold Springs 'Cue Club on next Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Special cars will convey the members to the grounds from the state capitol.

The special committee which had under consideration senate bill 22, by Mr. Sellers, to provide by a constitutional amendment to increase the classes of state pensioners, made its report. The committee recommended that an amendment be incorporated providing for a special tax levy of one-half of a mill in addition to the state tax rate of 5 mills, to raise the money to meet the extra pension payments. The report was not considered on yesterday.

New Bills Introduced.

The following new bills were introduced:

By Mr. Mathews: To provide for working roads of Crawford counay.

Also to authorize Fort Valley school board to sell certain property.

By Mr. Stevens: To amend act incorporating town of Lexington.

By Mr. Harrell: To provide for board of roads and revenues.

Bills Are Passed.

The following bills were passed:

To permit county commissioners of Glynn county to fix salary of clerk of the board.

To amend charher of Soperton.

To amend charter of Maples, in Mitchell county.

To amend charter town of Helena.

To authorize Hall county to issue good roads bonds.

To incorporate town of Candler, in Hall county.

To incorporate town of Carnegie, in county of Randolph.

To incorporate Tennille school district.

To amend act establishing city court of Washington.

To amend act establishing city court of Waycross.

To create commission to handle sinking funds to retire bonds of Fort Gaines.

To provide for registration of voters of Fort Gaines.

To amend charter of Citizens' bank of Valdosta.

Best Frocks You Ever Saw for $5.75 This Morning

Half-past eight this sale begins.

The dresses are stunningly smart and the most amazing bargains you ever came across.

They're not old, shoddy, shopworn stuff, mussed and rumpled and soiled from much handling. Most of them came in by yesterday's express. They're fresh and crisp and clean, direct from the manufacturer.

Very smart and effective are the materials and colors and modes of fashioning these frocks. Cotton foulards in black, navy and china blue, lavender and rose, in pretty combination with white; cotton voiles and bordered Swiss in black, heliotrope and Alice blue.

Most of these frocks have low necks and 3-4 sleeves finisht with the Canio frills so much in vogue just now. These frills are made of lace or net, pleated, and give the gown a very soft, becoming touch.

Some of the skirts are pleated, some overskirted and some show the new knee-band set on over a pleated skirt.

There are all sizes in this group of dresses--from 14's to 44's

Ordinarily, these frocks would sell for $7.45 to $12.50. Because we got a good bargain of them, we're going to put them out today at 8:30 for

KNIGHT-YANCEY METHODS PROBED BY UNCLE SAM

Government Agents Investigate Alleged Fraudulent Use of Mails.

Decatur, Ala., July 28.—Two government agents are investigating the manner in which the bankrupt cotton firms of Knight, Yancey & Co. and Steel Miller Company did business through the United States mails.

When seen at his hotel by a correspondent, one of the officers admitted that the government was investigating the alleged fraudulant use of the United States mails by these two bankrupt cotton firms, but said he had no information to make public at this time.

John W. Knight, the late manager of the big bankrupt firm, is still in Decatur, as he has been all the time since the failure, and mingles freely with his friends. He has nothing to say concerning the matter. His friends are confident that he will come out with clean skirts as they believe he is guilty of no wrong acts. They say he simply lost in speculations and that is all there is to it.

Failed to Climb Mt. McKinley.

Seward, Alaska, July 28.—The Rust Mount McKinley expedition failed in its effort to reach the summit of Mount McKinley, and is now returning to Seward.

English Cattle Barred.

Washington, July 28.—Owing to the discovery of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in Yorkshire, England, the importation of cattle from that country into the United States has been prohibited until the extent of the disease can be determined.

PLANNED TO PUSH COMPULSORY BILL

At a meeting of the friends of the compulsory education bill, held in the house of representatives immediately after adjournment yesterday, at the call of Mr. Littleton, of Richmond, Mr. Michael, of Marion, and Mr. Wright, of Floyd, plans for the organization of the forces favoring the bill were perfected, and from now on the campaign will be carried forward in earnest.

That the bill has a goodly number of enthusiastic supporters was shown by the attendance on yesterday's meeting. Many of those present signified their intention of personally canvassing the house for votes, and the authors of the bill feel confident of its success.

May Come Up Today.

It is possible the compulsory education bill will be reached in the house today. Educational bills are set as a special order, and there is only one educational measure ahead of the Littleton compulsory bill. It is not impossible, therefore, that it will be reached.

ATLANTA CHAPTER, D. A. R., PLANNING TO BUILD HOME

At their regular meeting this week the Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will look over plans being prepared for the new home of the chapter.

Mrs. Joseph Morgan, the present regent of the chapter, is one of the charter members of the organization, which claims to have been the first organized in the national association.

It will be recalled that Craigie House, which was built at the time of the Cotton States and International exposition by the Massachusetts state committee, was, after the exposition, presented to the Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. It was held by the Daughters as a meeting place, but it became inaccessible; a caretaker was necessary to insure its safety and the Daughters subsequently accepted as a site for a new meeting house a lot across from the Piedmont Driving Club, where the proposed new home will be built.

The plans indicate that the building will be artistically a most desirable addition to that now most picturesque part of the city.

The newly organized board of the woman's exchange has the ambition to so build up their enterprise that in time they will erect a woman's building with all the equipment of a modern club hoouse, with restaurant, rest and reading rooms, hairdressing and manicuring parlors and even rooms for ladies from out-of-town belonging to the exchange who happen to be in town shopping or on business.

The Atlanta Woman's Club already has a building of their own, and it is the cherished object of the Atlanta Art Association, of which a woman is president, to have a building for a permanent art exhibit and an institution by which the art life of the city might be organized and broadened.

The growth of Atlanta and her prosperity insure the success of all these undertakings in time—big as they seem now.

To Miss Emily Wimpey.

Miss Caroline Larendon entertained at a spend-the-day party Wednesday in honor of Miss Emily Wimpy. In the congenial party were Misses Caroline and Phyliss Larendon, Pauline Griggs, Helen Jones, Lillie Harmsen, Virginia Carhill, Nellie Williams and Ruth Chapman.

Miss Larendon is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Larendon.

Geigerman-Sommer.

A beautiful event of Tuesday evening was the marriage of Miss Camille Sommer and Mrs. Henry D. Geigerman, of Cincinnati, Ohio, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Washington street, Rabbi Marx officiating.

The spacious house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and quantities of cut flowers. The altar was a mound of palms and ferns, with tiny electric lights gleaming through, producing a beautiful effect. Promptly at 7:30 the bridal party entered to the strains of the Lohengrin march. The bridal party consisted of: Maid of honor, Miss Irma Sommer, young sister of the bride; matron of honor, Mrs. Herman Rich, of Birmingham, Ala.; bridesmaids, Misses Willie and Hortense Geigerman, of Cincinnati; Miss Corinne Sommer and Miss Esther Loveman, of Birmingham, Ala. The best man was Mr. Mose Geigerman, of Cincinnati, brother of the groom. The groomsmen were Messrs. Dave Franke, of Oklahoma; Ike Freed, of Houston, Texas; Joe Geigerman, of Cincinnati, and Stanley Bernard; ushers, Messrs. Abe Asher and Lawrence Steinheimer.

A brilliant reception followed the ceremony. About 200 guests called, and a delicious buffet lunch was served during the evening.

The bride was a vision of loveliness in her wedding gown of white calla crepe, trimmed with pearls and real lace.

The maid of honor was attired in pink silk mull, trimmed with lace.

The out-of-town guests included Mrs. D. Geigerman, Misses Willie and Hortense Geigerman and Edna Phillips, Messrs. Ferd Phillips, Mose and Joe Geigerman, all of Cincinnati; Messrs. Dave Franke, of Oklahoma; Ike Freed, of Houston, Texas; Mrs. Hannah Dreyfus, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rich, Miss Silvia Rich, Misses Corinne Sommer and Esther Loveman, and Mr. Marx Sommer, of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geigerman left at midnight for Washington, where they will continue their journey to New York, Nova Scotia and northern points of interest.

Society "Rosebuds" on Coach.

Miss Katherine Ellis, the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ellis, occupied the box seat on the coaching party given yesterday afternoon by Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry. Miss Ellis wore a smart toilet in blue, most becoming to her Titian coloring, and her hat was a Charlotte Corday, in white lace, trimmed in roses.

With Miss Ellis on the coach were Miss Esther Smith and her guest, Miss Disosway; Miss Ethelyn Emmons, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Aurelia Speer and Miss Margaret Thomas. The party met at the rooms of Colonel and Mrs. Lowry, in the Majestic, and from there drove to the Driving Club, where delicious refreshments were served, and the party was joined by Colonel Willis Ragan and Colonel Charles W. Crankshaw.

Jones-Thomas.

Miss Mary Paul Jones and Mr. John W. Thomas were married at the residence of Rev. William H. Bell, 30 Jones avenue, Wednesday, July 27. Friends witnessed the ceremony. They will reside at No. 65 West Georgia avenue.

Evening Party.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Hilburn delightfully entertained a number of their friends at their home on Inman street, Tuesday evening. Games were enjoyed, after which delightful refreshments were served.

Those present were: Misses Kate Rhodes, Jessie Watson, Lollie Bell Ward, Lillian Eskridge, Naomi Hilburn, Pearl Medlin, Blanche Medlin, Floy Eskridge, Ella Satterwhite, Mattie Sue Satterwhite, Ruth Satterwhite, Mazie Warneke; Messrs. E. G. Hanson, H. G. Newman, B. V. Bevil, Olin Walker, Cecil Bartlett and "Bob" Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Kershaw, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cooper, Mrs. Medlin, Mrs. T. B. Thrash and Mrs. Cooper.

Miss Barnett Entertains.

Miss Mamie Parish, who will be married next week to Mr. Randolph Vest, was the guest of honor at a "42" party given by Miss Ruth Burnett.

The house was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and nasturtiums, and the score cards were artistic creations of miniature couples standing in a wedding ring, and the prizes were water colors.

Miss Burnett and Miss Parish wore becoming gowns in white. The guests were: Miss Mary Evans of Waynesboro, Miss Ruth Evans of Waynesboro, Miss Carrie Parish, Miss Claire Langford, Miss Mabel Magruder, Miss Blanche Webb, Miss Cecil Becham, Miss Gertrude Becham, Miss Annie Belle West, Miss Katherine West, Miss Lucile Dennis, Miss Susie Lee Crumley, Miss Deland Waters, Mrs. E. JUDGE D. M. ROBERTS GOES TO BEYOND

Was Former Judge of the Oconee Circuit.

At the advanced age of 73 years, Judge David M. Roberts, of Eastman, Ga., a prominent member of the state bar, died at a private sanitarium here at 9 o'clock last night. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson to be prepared for burial and is to be removed this morning to Eastman, where the funeral will be held at the family residence Saturday morning.

Judge Roberts was engaged in the practice of law for forty years and was the oldest member of the Eastman bar. He served two terms as judge of the Oconee circuit and was a lieutenant of the Tenth Georgia confederate regiment. He was a prominent Mason, being a member of St. Omar's lodge, Knights Templar, at Macon.

The deceased is survived by his wife and three sons, J. H. and Paul, of Eastman, and F. A. Roberts, of Jacksonville, Fla.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED BY AN AUGUSTA AUTO

Augusta, Ga., July 28.—While running to catch a street car an unknown man ran into an automobile moving slowly down the street here tonight and died shortly afterward from the effects of the collision.

The automobile was driven by Frank X. Mulherin. The stranger was probably confused by the lights of two street cars moving in opposite directions. He is about 35 years old, laundry mark "M. B. G."

Spend Your Vacation At Greenhurst

The Ideal Spot on Chautauqua for a Few Days or Whole Summer's Stay.

For those who want a quiet and refined home for the summer, where pleasure without limit and the very best of accommodations may be obtained at moderate cost, there is no other place like Greenhurst-on-Chautauqua, which is now under the able direction of George F. Hurlburt, known far and wide for his capable management of the Sherman House of Jamestown and the Grand Hotel of New York City.

Here every pleasure, comfort and accommodation of the most modern inland watering place may be enjoyed. Every facility for rest and recuperation or a lively good time is at hand. Just across Lake Chautauqua is Celeron, the Coney Island of Western New York. Three miles above Celeron is located the country club with a very attractive golf course, and an hour's ride by express steamer from the Greenhurst landing is Chautauqua, the most noted of all semi-educational summer resorts, where the leading lights of literature, music, science and religion come together each summer for the mutual benefit of all. Ten minutes' walk from the Greenhurst Hotel, is the Chadokoin Boat Club with every kind of craft from a row boat to a palatial launch.

Every imaginable recreation is available—boating, fishing, automobiling, golfing, swimming, bowling, billiards, tennis, archery, croquet. Add to this the beauty of Lake Chautauqua, the delightful sylvan surroundings, the splendid service and moderate cost of living at Greenhurst-on-Chautauqua, there is no other place that offers so many wonderful advantages at like cost.

Most summer resorts run to one extreme or the other—they're either too quiet or too boisterous. Greenhurst is neither one nor the other, but both.

Address George F. Hurlburt, Grand Hotel, New York City—or Jamestown, N. Y., for full particulars as to rates and accommodations. Get this information now and lay your vacation plans accordingly.

SCOUTS ARRIVE IN FOREST CITY

Savannah Autoists Interested in Fall Tour.

Trip From Brunswick Made Without Mishap---Buick Car Stands Rough Experiences Well---Warm Greeting Extended the Pathfinders.

By Frank Weldon.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Piloted by President Frank Battey and Secretary Arthur Solomon, of the Savannah Automobile Club, the pathfinders breezed into the Forest City at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Sixty of the seventy-five miles from Brunswick here are the finest road we have seen in several days. Four of the other fifteen miles are water, which have to be ferried, not forded. The other eleven miles are sand, four or five in McIntosh and the balance in Glynn.

The Buick left Brunswick at 11:30 today and after running several miles, landing at 1 o'clock. Glynn county has five miles of beautiful shell road coming out of Brunswick. The other seven miles are not continuously sand, but half of that stretch is heavy. A mile or more runs along a great rice bank through Dent's plantation. This is a novel touring road, but it is good going. Transferring to the lighter in waiting took only a minute or so, and the ferryman quickly got under way, towing the lighter with a motor boat. The tide was all right and we went through General's cut with two hours to spare before low water.

Colonel Dick Grubb Greets Scouts.

Colonel Dick Grubb, Sheriff Alex Bailey and others came down to the Darien dock to meet us and gave us cordial welcome to the picturesque city of Darien.

The ferry consumed one hour and fifteen minutes. Lunch and conversation got away with our hour. Colonel Grubb kindly added a mammoth watermelon to our baggage, and the Buick, still performing perfectly, started for Savannah with R. V. Connerat driving.

He left last Sunday night, but rejoined out party at Brunswick this morning. As soon as we got by the sand he put on the power and we sped over along the old stage road through McIntosh and Liberty counties at 25 miles an hour until we ran into a ferrific thunder storm. It seemed to us to be a cloudburst.

Over Picturesque Route.

Old Midway church was passed in a driving rain. Notwithstanding the deluge, we kept going over an excellent and picturesque road into Bryan county and on to the Ogeechee river bridge, 15 miles from Savannah. There we were met by Messrs. Battey, Solomon, B. D. Haines, Henry Gormany and W. T. Knight. After a few kind words and cold bottles, the scouts resumed their journey.

Chatham's roads are magnificent, and the Buick engine performed smoothly.

The speedometer registered 760 miles from Atlanta and not a puncture yet.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY What It Offers.

The selection of the right school for the education of your daughter is an important matter. The Washington Seminary, 36 East North avenue, Atlanta, may be able to help you solve the problem wisely, for it offers first-class facilities in the following respects:

First. A Primary Department, from first to eighth grades, in which the children are taught in small classes, averaging about ten pupils.

Second. A well-rounded Seminary course leading to graduation under experienced teachers who are graduates of the best class-A colleges. Personal attention to the needs of each pupil is secured through the departmental system of instruction and the division of all classes into small sections. This affords right conditions for thorough work.

Third. A college preparatory course which fits pupils for entrance at class-A colleges, such as Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, etc., on certificate.

Fourth. Excellent advantages in piano, voice, art, expression, under teachers who are graduates of the best American and European conservatories.

DEATH OF YOUNG WELLS MAY BRING INQUIRY

Government to Inquire Into Treatment Griffin Soldier Received.

Griffin, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—The body of Raymond Wells, the young soldier who was taken ill during the encampment at Chickamauga and whose death occurred in Atlanta yesterday, has reached the city and will be buried tomorrow. The deceased was one of the best liked young men of this city and his death created a gloom throughout the town.

The death of Wells will probably cause an investigation to be made by the government, as it is reported that he was not properly cared for when first taken ill. It is said that he was first sent to an inadequate hospital at Chickamauga and afterwards to the post hospital.

No blame is attached to the officers of the company of which Mr. Wells was a member, however.

BANKS COUNTY ROW BEFORE COMMITTEE

Bill to Take County Affairs Away from Ordinary Is Adversed.

Quite a lengthy debate was held in the senate chamber yesterday afternoon over the bill of Representative Wood, of Banks county, before the committee on county matters, to create a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for that county, thus taking the management of county affairs out of the hands of the ordinary.

There were two delegates present from Banks county, one favoring the bill, the other opposing. The delegation favoring the measure was represented by Representative McCrory, of Schley county, and the opposition by Reuben Arnold, of Atlanta.

It was stated by Representative McCrory that Ordinary Pickens used the county convicts on his farm. The ordinary replied that the grand jury had passed on that matter and found he was not violating the law.

The committee went into executive session, and decided to recommend to the senate that the bill "do not pass."

Other Committees at Work.

The senate committee on corporations decided to recommend for passage the bill of Representative Sheppard, of Sumter, providing for the creation of a commission for water, electric lights, etc., for Americus.

A committee substitute for the bill of Representative Vinson, of Baldwin, providing how banks and corporations shall issue stock certificates, will be recommended to the senate by the committee on banks.

The senate committee on appropriations decided to recommend favorably the house bill of Representative Tarver, of Whitfield, providing for an appropriation of $2,500 with which to build a monument to General Joseph E. Johnston at Dalton. The shaft will cost $5,000, the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy having the additional $2,500.

A Mother's Letter.

Dear Mother:—

You who have a baby or little child, I want to give you a safe, sure home remedy for the little aches and pains of little stomachs; one that may be safely given to the most delicate infant. To a half cup of water add one-fourth cup of granulated sugar; heat until sugar is dissolved; let stand until cool; then add one ounce Medofor, which your druggist will tell you makes about three times as much syrup as is contained in the small, flat bottles of advertised remedies. The next time the little one worries or frets or cries, is sleepless or constipated, give a teaspoonful of this mixture. You will find it almost instant relief, and while it acts quickly and thoroughly, there is no danger of the bad after-effects that follow dangerous patent medicines, many of which would be injurious even to grown-ups.

After all, the simple home remedies are safest and best for children. I have found it true, and so will you. Try it for baby's sake, and for your own.

WM. S. MOORE'S DEATH SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT?

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 28.—Wm. S. Moore, 60 years old, a wealthy planter and brother-in-law of the late Eckstein Norton, former president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, shot and killed himself today. Whether the shooting was accidental or done with suicidal intent cannot be determined.

Laborers working on the farm heard a shot in a grove. Looking up they saw Mr. Moore reeling with the pistol falling from his relaxed fingers. A coroner's jury declared they were unable to determine whether the shot was self inflicted.

Because of the prominence of Moore's family the tragedy has caused a considerable sensation.

ATLANTA IS MADE BIG WIRE POINT

City to Become Southeastern Headquarters for Western Union.

Important changes in the organization of the Western Union Telgeraph Company, which will make Atlanta headquarters for the southeast, are expected to go into effect by September 1.

While no official announcement is forthcoming from any of the Atlanta officials concerning the change, the proposition is said to have assumed definite shape.

According to the plans of reorganization all the territory south of Washington and east of the Mississippi, except Louisiana, will be formed into the southeastern division, and B. F. Dillon, now general superintendent in Atlanta, will be placed in charge.

The change will mean a great increase in the number of officials and employees in Atlanta. Three executive officers, division commercial superintendent, division plant superintendent and division traffic superintendent, will have offices here and will be next in authority to Mr. Dillon.

The southeastern division will be subdivided in four districts in charge of superintendents, with offices at Atlanta, Nashville, Richmond and Jacksonville.

The installation of the new administrative system is similar in essential respects to that of the associated Bell Telephone companies, which are under the same ownership with the Western Union. Edward T. Hall, of the American Telephone Company, is said to have initiated the reorganization plan.

$1,000 OFFERED ON JOSEPH BROWN

Notice Posted at the Desk of the Kimball House.

The betting stage of the gubernatorial campaign has been reached. On yesterday Manager Joe Burns, of the Kimball House, posted an offer to bet $1,000 that Joseph M. Brown will carry the state this year.

Mr. Burns did not say who had placed the money with him, but announced that he would receive either Brown or Smith money. Up to 6 o'clock the money had not been covered.

The notice reads as follows:

"I am authorized to post one thousand dollars that Joseph M. Brown will carry the state for governor in the primary of August 23.

"I do this not as favoring Brown nor Smith, and if any wagers are offered on the Smith side I will post just as I do this.

"Any one wishing to cover this wager must deposit cash or certified check, which will be met in similar way.

"JOE BURNS."

At Brown headquarters, in the Kimball House, it was stated that the mail had been the heaviest yet received. G. Ed Maddox and his assistant, J. G. Perry, dictated replies almost continually for six hours and were not even then able to finish up.

It was estimated that between 300 and 500 visitors called during the day, and they came from every section of the state. The reports each man gave of conditions in his section were most encouraging.

Mr. Maddox was beaming all day at the splendid response which has met the efforts of the Brown managers to organize the state. He said they did not realize just how strong was the feeling in support of the re-election of the present governor, until the practical work of organizing forces was undertaken.

"Things are in the very best shape possible," said Mr. Maddox.

SMASHES WINDOW PANES AT STOCKADE WITH SHOE

Woman Is Haled Before Recorder Broyles and Bound Over.

Annie Clair, a white woman, in a fit of anger while a prisoner at the city stockade, pulled off a shoe and smashed thirty-two panes of glass in the prison building before any of the guards could stop her.

She was haled before Recorder Broyles in police court yesterday afternoon at the instance of Superintendent Tom Lanford, who testified that she was the most incorrigible subject ever sent out from police court; that she would not work, and used the vilest kind of language.

While the superintendent of the stockade was describing to the court how the woman had acted she called him a vile name at the top of her voice and repeated it when Judge Broyles told her to hush.

She was bound over under $500 bond charged with malicious mischief, this being done at the suggestion of Lanford.

BUYS ENTIRE TOWN.

Mobile, Ala., July 28.—Right Rev. Bernard M. Skulik, Ph.D., D. D. of St. Hyacinth's, La Salle, Ill., is here as a guest of Bishop Allen, of the diocese of Mobile.

Dr. Skulik has purchased the town of Dwight, on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, 40 miles north of Mobile, and will establish his winter home there, and has arranged to bring 100 Polish families from Illinois to locate on the land, which is adapted to truck and fruit culture.

HOKE SMITH ILL; CANCELS SPEECHES

His Waycross Speech Will Be Given to the Press, However.

Former Governor Hoke Smith was stricken with a serious attack of kidney colic at his home in Atlanta early Thursday morning, and at the advice of his physician has canceled the speaking engagements at Waycross and Macon for this week.

The speech of Mr. Smith has already been given out to the state press and will appear Friday afternoon as originally planned.

When Mr. Smith was seized with the attack he called his son, Marion Smith. The latter thought his father was seized with appendicitis, and at his request called the family physician, Dr. E. Bates Block. The latter on his arrival found the former governor suffering intensely, but in no danger. Opiates were administered and the pain relieved.

Dr. Block in describing the ailment of his patient, said:

"Governor Smith is suffering from a severe attack of kidney colic, which, while extremely painful, is not dangerous to life. It will be necessary for him to rest quietly for a few days, but there is no reason that can be foreseen why he should not resume his usual occupations by the early part of next week. Such attacks, while very painful, usually pass off without serious consequences."

On Thursday Mr. Smith dictated the following telegram canceling the speaking engagement he had made for this morning in Waycross:

"Mr. G. F. Folks, Waycross, Ga.: I have your telegram in behalf of your committee. I was quite sick last night with a severe attack of kidney colic and am confined to my bed today. I am advised by my physician that it will be impossible for me to be out until the early part of next week. I regret very much that for this reason it will be impossible for me to be in Waycross Friday. I have already given my speech to the press and under the circumstances will not stop its publication. Please communicate these facts to your committee and my friends in your section. I wish to assure my friends in your section that I will make every effort to come to Waycross before the primary.

"HOKE SMITH.

"Atlanta, Ga., July 28, 1910."

It was announced at the Smith headquarters Thursday afternoon that the former governor would resume his usual daily routine on Monday. It is probable that other speaking engagements will be made for next week.

Aged Undertaker Dead.

Decatur, Ala., July 28.—Calvin Brown, the oldest undertaker in Alabama, died today after a brief illness. He had been engaged in the undertaking business here since before the civil war. He was a charter member of the Decatur lodges of Masons and Knights of Pythias, and a prominent member of the Odd Fellows and the Methodist church. His son, Frank Brown, who is a member of the undertaking firm of Calvin Brown & Son, survives him.

CREMATORY SITE OUTSIDE ATLANTA

Decision Practically Reached to This Effect at Committee Meeting.

At the first meeting of the special crematory committee from the bond commission and the board of health, held yesterday morning, it was clearly shown that the best thing for Atlanta to do would be to buy a tract of 100 or more acres outside the city limits and there begin a permanent system of taking care of the city's garbage with crematories.

It was shown that there are now in the city fourteen dumping grounds that are a continual menace to the city's health. The location of a crematory in any one section of the city would merely mean a temporary makeshift.

Two subcommittees were appointed, one to confer with the railroads about hauling the garbage from the city to an outside crematory, the other to look for a suitable site.

The subcommittees are as follows:

To confer with the railroads: Councilman Dan Walraven, Dr. W. L. Gilbert and Dr. J. H. Bradfield.

To find a suitable site: Alderman E. E. Pomeroy, Alderman Frank A. Pittman and George H. Brandon, member of the board of health.

Mayor Maddox volunteered to make a report on the style of and cost of special cars to haul the garbage.

A report of the garbage handled in Atlanta, made by Chief Jentzen, was read. It showed for the past six months that 209,192 cartloads of garbage are hauled annually by the sanitary department. The cost for this service is $61,689. Each year 15,184 wagonloads of night soil are removed and the cost of hauling and pitting it is $24,678.75. Number of teams employed, 141; number of men, 161. Teams hauling night soil, 28; men engaged in this work, 63.

Average distance of present garbage hauls, 1¼ miles; longest haul serving dumps, 1½ miles. Number of men at crematory, 16; weekly payroll for crematory, $141.95, annual cost of fuel at crematory, $1,500; number of cartloads of ashes removed from crematory each year, 18,780; number of cartloads of garbage cremated each year, 81,380. Number of tons of garbage dumped each year, 50,000; number of tons burned each year, 30,000.

Cost of operating and maintaining crematory, $9,000 per annum; crematory lot is worth $20,000; stable lot adjoining is worth $7,500.

A convenient train to New York—the "Birmingham Special," via Southern Railway—leaving Atlanta 2:45 p. m., arrives Washington 10:40 a. m., New York 5:00 p. m. It carries two drawing-room sleeping cars, electric-lighted coaches and Southern Railway dining car.

PIKE COUNTY VETERANS HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Barnesville, Ga., July 28.—(Special.) Camp 421, Pike County Confederate Veterans, held their annual reunion at Bluff Springs today, and the meeting was a very successful and pleasant one. There was a large attendance of veterans and others present, and a splendid dinner was spread for the enjoyment of all. A magnificent address was delivered by Colonel A. R. Wright, of Sandersville.

The following officers were elected for another year: J. S. Lifsey, commander; G. L. Summers and J. E. Strickland, vice commanders; R. Y. Beckham, secretary; Rev. C. E. Lavender, chaplain. G. L. Summers and J. E. Strickland were elected delegates to the state reunion in Columbus.

BRYAN TO FIGHT, THOUGH BEATEN

He Won't Bow to Action of the Convention.

Bryan Issues Statement Declaring He Will Continue to Struggle for County Option and for the Initiative and the Referendum.

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—William J. Bryan will continue the contest for county option and the initiative and referendum. In a statement issued today he says:

"While the failure of the democratic convention to indorse county option was disappointing, still the fight for county option in the democratic party has not been in vain. In the first place, it has helped to secure a declaration in favor of the initiative and referendum in both parties, and now that all parties have declared for it, there is no doubt of the necessary amendment being submitted at the next session of the legislature.

"The work now to be done is to secure county option candidates in every senatorial and representative district. Those democrats who favor county option should turn out at the primaries and nominate a candidate favorable to county option. The republicans in favor of county option should be as active in securing the nomination of republican candidates favorable to county option. County option candidates should be nominated by all parties in each district and I have no doubt that this can be done in a great many districts."

Normans Sell Wool Clip.

Moultrie, Ga., July 28.—(Special.) The wool clip of the Norman Brothers, at Norman Park, was sold today at 23.15 cents. It was bought by Kirkland & Co., of Savannah. There was less than 10,000 pounds in the lot. The Normans sold 50,000 pounds annually a few years ago, but they have been disposing of their sheep in recent years.

The Quality of Our Furniture Our Best Salesman

We have made it an object in our advertising to emphasize our attitude towards the customer—namely, that the QUALITY of our stock, superiority of styles and designs, and the obvious assurance of durability in the splendid construction and finish of our FURNITURE is a stronger argument in our favor, and makes a stronger bid for your patronage than the volubility of salesmen.

It is not to be inferred for a moment, however, that this suggestion argues a disinterested spirit in our sales force—far from it—our salesmen are naturally and commendably ambitious to sell to every prospective customer that comes to our store; but they are constantly cooperating with us in pursuing and preserving the broad policy in force here, that the QUALITY of our merchandise must be, and IS, sufficiently impressive to secure your approbation and preference without the hackneyed tactics sometimes necessary with correspondence [illegible] in some establishments, where qualities are not so certain, to outwit or overpersuade the customer.

OVER MILLION CANS OF PEACHES PUT UP AT AMERICUS CANNERIES

Americus, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—The canning season here ended yesterday with the closing down of the large plant of the Americus Canning Company, of which Roberts Bros., of Baltimore, are proprietors. The plant ran on full time during the season of six weeks, doing an enormous business.

More than one million cans of peaches were put up here during the season at the Roberts plant and the smaller ones of the Ware-Progress and the Raymond Orchards Company, near Americus.

These one million cans of 2-pound weight added 80 carloads of peaches to the 230 cars shipped otherwise to the east and north.

Some idea of the magnitude of the peach canning industry in Americus is thus given, when it is understood that it would require four long freight trains to carry at one shipment the entire output of the canneries here. The Ware-Progress Company alone shipped away a trainload.

The plant of the Americus Canning Company, under the management of the Messrs. Langrell, of Baltimore, [illegible] put up more than 750,000 cans; [illegible]al of 2,250,000 pounds, or about 60 c[illegible]ads. Their expense account, including cost of cans and crates, exceeded one thousand dollars per day.

The 750,000 cans of peaches put up by them bear the label "Made in Americus, Ga.," and are shipped to every state in the union.

FAMOUS SMITHVILLE ROAD TO HAVE OUTLET TO GULF

Americus, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—If Commissioner Frank Sheffield, of the board of commissioners of Sumter county, can succeed in interesting the boards of other counties in south Georgia and Florida in a very feasible proposition, the "Smithville road," now leading out of Americus, will have a gulf [illegible]nus.

From [illegible]th Georgia to the Gulf of Mexico is the proposition made by Chairman Sheffield, and he talks very enthusiastically thereupon.

Georgia's good roads system, he argues, extends already south to Thomasville, which is within a few miles of the Florida line and "beyond the Alps lies Italy," in the form of the glistening waters of the gulf.

And the gulf is the mecca of the good roads extension.

From Americus to Thomasville, the distance is less than one hundred miles, from that city to the gulf it is probably forty miles. It can be seen, therefore, that the improvement of the Florida highways alone is needed to afford a fine roadway from Atlanta south to tidewater.

"It would be a road that will attract wide attention and bring hundreds of autoists by way of Americus," said Mr. Sheffield.

"And then our people here would enjoy such a good road to the gulf," he continued, "we could actually leave Americus in the early morning, make the run to the Gulf of Mexico in a few hours; spend the day there fishing, and return home the same evening or next morning."

Mr. Sheffield is an enthusiastic angler, as well as road advocate, and views the proposed highway from the standpoint of Isaak Walton.

So impressed is he with the feasibility of the project that he has written the commissioners of Florida counties with the view of interesting them in building roads that will connect Sumter's highways into a system of highways to the sea, and that, too, within a very short while.

And there are many here who, like Commissioner Sheffield, view the suggestion with favor.

WHILE HE MEASURED BRANDY FEDERAL OFFICERS LOOKED ON

Brown House, Macon, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—As he stood measuring the finest quality of peach brandy in his plant close to his home in Pike county, James Jackson, a negro, looked up and found himself surrounded by United States revenue officers. Deputy Marshals Frank and Dave Riley and Deputy Collector L. J. Hinton were there ready to snap the man up at one bite if he started to run. Jackson laid down his measures and took in the situation in the best of humor. He came to Macon and this morning before United States Commissioner L. M. Erwin entered a plea of guilty. He was held under bond of $200.

A wooden distillery and a large amount of crude beer made from peaches were destroyed by the officers, and the brandy, much of it, was poured out. Other small quantities were brought along in jugs to be used as evidence.

James Wellmaker, a white farmer, on whose place the deputies said they found traces of the business, was also brought to Macon, but on investigation he was released. The officers were favorably impressed with his denials. Another negro named Roberson was put on hearing before United States Commissioner W. E. Martion for the offense of distilling, but in another case. He was taken on the same trip.

The abundant peach crop has afforded the officers in the revenue department more than an ordinary amount of business.

BURNETT ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR COUNCIL

R. A. Burnett, better known to his friends as "Dick" Burnett, announces for councilman in the third ward.

Mr. Burnett is one of the best known men in the third ward, having resided at 92 Park avenue for eleven years. He is vice president and general manager of the Ladder and Specialty Company, manufacturers of furniture, and is also running the R. A. Burnett Coal Company, being sole owner. He asks his friends for their vote and influence.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE IN SEVENTH DISTRICT

Interesting Program for Moultrie Meeting to Be Held August 5 and 6.

Moultrie, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—The Farmers' Institute of the seventh senatorial district, embracing the counties of Brooks, Thomas, Grady and Colquitt, will be held in Moultrie this year on August 5 and 6. The institute rotates from county to county and it has been four years since it was last held in Moultrie. At that time a very interesting institute was held. This year the farmers of Colquitt county and the officers of the institute have asked that two days be given, and this has been granted by the department of agricultural extension of the state college of agriculture, under the auspices of which the institutes are held.

Institute at Idylwild.

Wrightsville, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—Next Monday the farmers' institute for the sixteenth senatorial district will be held at Idylwild, two miles south of Wrightsville.

This meeting is to be held under the auspices of the State College of Agriculture.

How's Your Liver?

The natural laxative and antiseptic of the bowels is the bile, which is secreted by the liver. The bile is nature's lubricant. When your liver is torpid it produces less bile, and of course the bowels become clogged with poisonous matter which finds its way into the blood, producing biliousness and constipation and indigestion.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills are by far the best remedy to empty the bowels and relieve congested conditions. They act as a true tonic to the liver, preventing as well as curing constipation. One or two of these pills taken every night mildly stimulates the liver and corrects biliousness without the driving purgative effects of harsh drugs. Their gentle laxative action especially commends them to ladies who bloat after eating and are subject to periodical headaches. To secure a healthy secretion of bile, thus establishing perfect bowel regularity, these little pills possess merits peculiarly their own, not found in other remedies. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

Bayless' Catch Saved Game in Eighth---Gulls Got Thirteen Bingles But Could Not Bunch Them--Crackers' Eight Total Same Number of Bases.

By G. J. Flournoy.

Mobile, Ala., July 28.—(Special.)—Flaherty and Bayless broke up the game today in the eighth inning, and Atlanta took the first of the series from Mobile by a score of 4 to 2. Flaherty by his home run hit over the right field fence and Bayless by a wonderful left-handed catch in Mo-[illegible] authority), indicating a deterioration of fully 5 per cent during the past month and offerings were so well absorbed on moderate reactions as to suggest a rather general scaling down of new crop views. Many early sellers who found their offerings as well absorbed, turned to replace their cotton in the late trading, and while the close was a little off from the best there was at no time any sign of weakness. It was estimated that July notices for over 80,000 bales were issued during the morning, making nearly 200,000 bales that had been tendered the bulls since the first of the month but these notices were quickly stopped and July sold at 16.05, or 15 points above the closing figures of last night, with the close at 15.98 bid. Tomorrow will be the last day of trading in July and sentiment was still nervous in the late trading owing to apprehensions that there might yet be some belated short interest.

Southern spot markets were ⅛c lower to ¼c higher.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 2,444 bales against 7,988 last year, and 2,510 last year; for the week 30,000 against 56,321 last week, and 18,401 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 491 bales, against 468 last year, and at Houston, 157 against 30 last year.

Spot closed quiet 20 points higher; middling uplands 16.05; middling gulf, 16.30; sales, 23,052.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 28.—Cotton—spot, quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot 328 bales; to arrive none; low ordinary 11 5-16, nominal; ordinary 12⅜ [illegible] middling 16 5-16; strict

In this inning both teams were retired, and when Atlanta went to the bat, Matthews reached third on a lucky hit, which took a bad bound past Watson at third. Flaherty caught one along the chest and lifted it far over the fence back of Wagner, who was playing deep right. That put Atlanta two runs to the good.

Bayless' Catch.

In the Gulls' half of the eighth there was a chance to tie the Crackers, but Bayless stopped the run getting. Swacina led off with a hit to left. Barr landed on one and it sailed away, looking good for three sacks, but Bayless tore out to right center and as the ball was about to hit the ground reached down and scooped it in. Following him, aWtson hit safe, but Seltz could do nothing.

It was a peculiar game. The Gulls made thirteen hits to eight for the Crackers, yet could not bunch them. Chappelle did not have much, yet good fielding helped him out. While Flaherty was liberal with his hits, he kept them scattered. Good fielding behind him pulled him out of tight holes.

The other runs were made by Atlanta in the first and fourth innings. They led off by Moran hitting to left, but Barr misjudged the ball and Moran went to second. Jordan advanced him with a sacrifice and he scored on a single by Smith.

DeHaven Scores.

In the fourth, DeHaven hit to deep left for two bags. Smith sacrificed him to third. Fisher landed on one that went safe over first and DeHaven scored.

Mobile brought one over in the third. Murphy and Berger singled to right, Murphy taking third on the hit and scored on a slow infield hit by Watson.

In the sixth Swacina singled past third. Wagner rapped a safe one to left. Seitz rolled one to short, forcing Wagner at second. Swacina going to third. Matthews threw to second to catch Seitz stealing, and Swacina came home on the run and bumped into Matthews like a catapult knocking the ball out of Matthews' hands.

Kelber against Manuel or J. Fisher will be the batteries for Friday's game.

Lookouts 7, Barons 6.

Birmingham, Ala., July 28.—Four pitchers, equally ineffective and equally unsupported, joined forces this afternoon in making the game a farce. Chattanooga established a lead of seven runs, and then Birmingham made six. The score:

IMPROMPTU RACE ON TRACK ENLIVENED THE PRACTICE

SOME SPEEDWAY NOTES.

Special cars direct to track from corner of Broad and Alabama streets, beginning at noon. Tickets on sale at Southern Soda Water Company, at that place.

General admission tickets 25c; grandstand, 50c.

All "rain checks" held from last Saturday will be honored at the gates.

No charge will be made for automobiles entering the grounds, each occupant, however, must pay the general admission.

Automobiles can be parked free, either in the paddock back of the bleachers or in the paddock pockets inside the track paddock. Automobiles desiring to use paddock pockets inside track must enter the underpass gate, reached by automobile road from Virginia avenue at the northeast corner of the Speedway inclosure.

Fifteen events in all to be contested. Same number of different makes of cars. Ninety-six cars in all entered.

Yesterday was the semi-final day for practice on the Atlanta Speedway track at Hapeville and the men who have entered the cars in the events which will be decided Saturday did not fail to take full advantage of the opportunity.

There was a car or two waiting this morning when the gates were thrown open at 8 o'clock and from the time they hit the track until Supt. Joe Cothran closed the gates at night there were cars aplenty on the oval.

Practice Race.

The great feature of the day's practice was an impromptu race between W. E. Wimpy's Buick, Smith driving, and W. J. Stoddard's National, with the owner at the wheel.

This pair of cars are entered, with Johnny Woodside, Jr's., machine, in a match race at 10 miles and there is such a strong rivalry between the two car owners that already a supper has been wagered on the contest. After much banter in the judges' stand yesterday Mr. Wimpy finally challenged Mr. Stoddard for a match race on the spot and it was accordingly arranged. With Asa Candler, Jr., as timer and "Bill" Nye as starter, the machines were lined up and sent away to a great start. Smith had a bit of trouble getting into the high gear and as a result the National got away to the better start. When the Buick did get under way, though, it picked up speed amazingly and at the first turn had collared the Indianapolis car.

At the point where the track is cut off from view by the one hill of the infield, they were neck and neck and "coming out of the hole," there was little advantage. Going up the back stretch the National had an advantage, but the Redbird proved faster on the turns, and gained so rapidly that when they thundered into the home stretch and chased down for the first time, they were nose and nose.

Buick Wins.

The machines hit the first turn again about on equal terms, and from that point on it was see-saw back and forward, with neither car having any great advantage. Coming into the stretch the last time, the cars were so close together that they appeared yoked. In the stretch drive the Buick appeared to have it a shade. Smith gave her all there was in the shop, and gradually the Redbird edged ahead, showing first a tire in front, then a hood, then a car's length, then another car's length of daylight, and with this advantage for the Buick the machines flashed over the tape. The time was 3:54.

It was a grand race, and both drivers were satisfied with the outcome.

At the top is E. V. Church, the big Englishman, who will drive the big Simplex and Pope-Hartford cars. At the bottom is Cal Travis, who will drive the Cadillac.

While the National lost in a 4-mile spin, its owner believes that in a 10-mile race he may be able to turn the tables.

A feature of the afternoon was the continued fast work of Harry Cohen in the E-M-F Bullet. This machine proved to be in fine trim still and went phenomenally fast. It will have far from a cinch, however, in that 161 to 230 class.

K. T. McKinstry has his Firestone-Columbus running like mad, and while he cannot show a mark for two miles equal to that of the E-M-F, he believes that in an 8-mile race he will have the advantage.

Another car that is fairly setting the track afire, and which is in the class with the E-M-F and the Firestone-Columbus, is the Oakland. This machine is fast. And don't forget the Ford. It was one of the early birds on the track yesterday morning, and while nobody was out early enough to snap its time, it was reported to be going in nice trim.

All day today the track will be open for practice and practically all the cars will be out for a final spin. Saturday morning the track will be closed, and Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the first race will be run.

FLAHERTY POURED WATER FROM SHOES AFTER GAME

Mobile, Ala., July 28.—Tthe weather conditions here in the game this afternoon were something fierce. Flaherty could not control the ball, and every time he pitched a stream of water came from his hand. After the game, in the club house he actually poured a stream of water from his shoes.

WOLGAST-M'FARLAND BOUT BEFORE NEW ORLEANS CLUB

New Orleans, July 28.—Tommy Walsh, matchmaker of the New Orleans Athletic Club, who has offered a purse of $10,000 for a twepty-round bout in this city between Ad Wolgast and Packey McFarland, on Labor day, announced today that he has received acceptances of the terms from both fighters, but with important reservations. Wolgast will not fight except at 133 pounds ringside, while McFarland insists that the weighing-in be four hours before the bout. The opinion is expressed here that Promoter Walsh will not be able to get the men to agree on the weight.

BIERKOTTE WILL JOIN CRACKERS

Augusta Player Will Play Short on Saturday.

Can't Get Hyder Barr---Lost Dock Johnston, Too---Other Deals Go Wrong---Jordan Still on Outlook for Players. May Change Line-Up.

The shortstop question has been settled for good and for all. The man has been signed. He will probably play in Saturday's game. He arrives in Mobile today.

The player in question is Bierkotte, who has been playing shortstop for the Augusta team in the South Atlantic League, the Crackers concluding a deal for his services last night, paying a good price for the man, with the understanding that he be sent at once. This has been agreed upon.

Bierkotte Signed.

The following telegram from Mobile confirms the above statement:

Mobile, Ala., July 28.—(Special)—President Heisman announced tonight that he had signed Bierkotte, of the Augusta team, in the South Atlantic league and he would arrive tomorrow and be in Saturday's game. He had wires out for Bierman, of Jacksonville, and Desmond, of Joslin Mo.

The new first baseman for the Crackers, according to the Atlanta president, will join the Crackers in Atlanta on Sunday. He refused to divulge who he had selected, but said that his name would be made public tomorrow.

The first baseman that President Heisman had in mind was Dock Johnston, of the Chattanooga team, President Andrews, of that club, agreeing to sell the player to Atlanta. However, Viola, of Augusta, who was to have taken Johnston's place in the Chattanooga outfield, broke his ankle in the game with Columbus yesterday, and the Johnston deal with Atlanta was called off.

Johnston Deal Off.

The following telegram from Chattanooga confirms this:

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 28.—(Special)—Just as President Andrews was about to wire the Atlanta club accepting their terms for First Baseman and Outfielder Dock Johnston, a message came to him from Augusta that Viola, the Cuban, who was to take Johnston's place on the local club, had badly sprained his ankle in Thursday's game and consequently could not play for three or four weeks. The Chattanooga club then called the Viola deal off and Johnston will not be sold to Atlanta.

Bierkotte's record for the present season is not obtainable at the present time, but last season here is what he did. Played in 128 games, was at bat 446 times, made 69 runs, 100 hits and batted .223. He had 329 put-outs, 383 assists and 60 errors, a percentage of .922.

Bierkotte made 23 sacrifice hits and stole 56 bases. He led the Sally league in stolen bases, the nearest man to him being Reidy, of Chattanooga, who had 46. Bierkotte is a willing player and one who will go after everything hit in yards of his territory. He should make us a good man.

Barr Deal Off.

As far as Hyder Barr is concerned, this deal is practically off. The following telegram from Mobile shows the exact status of that affair:

Mobile, Ala., July 28.—(Special)—President Heisman held a long conference here today with President Colsson, of the Mobile club, and an effort was made to have Barr join the Atlanta team, but the deal was called off on account of the condition of Outfielder Wagner, of the Mobile club, who is slowly recovering from a sprained ankle received in Birmingham nearly a month ago. Wagner was forced in the game today, but his base running was pitiful. Alcock is out of the game for Mobile on account of a bad spike received in the last game with Memphis.

New Line-Up.

The sporting editor wired Manager Jordan last night suggesting that he try DeHaven on short, put Sid on first and Flaherty in right field until he got his new players. DeHaven has played third and should play short well.

A wire was received from Manager Jordan as follows:

"Thought of that, may try it Friday. Anything to win. Thanks."

From this there is a liklihood of DeHaven playing short today, and Fisher getting back on the rifle pit for Saturday's game. Flaherty's playing in the game would be a great thing for his hitting, as with such a short right field fence and the way he hits them, he is liable to put one over there any day.

Brooks Is Lost.

Manager Jordan was after Charley Brooks, the first sacker who was with New Orleans the first part of the season, and who got his first baseball experience as a member of the Tech Yellow Jackets.

Brooks is playing with the Yazoo City team in the Cotton States league, and Manager Isom Jones, after sounding the minds of the club owners and the fans, decided not to let Brooks go. Hence, another deal was spoiled.

AT EMPIRE CITY.

Empire City, N. Y., July 28.—Magazine, nicely ridden by Archibald, won the Fleetwing handicap here today. Melisande, the 3 to 5 favorite, was poorly handled. Shilling rushed her up very fast and raced head-and-head with Colloquy to the turn into the stretch, when the early effort began to tell and Magazine, coming with a rush on the outside, took the lead and won galloping by five lengths from Colloquy, which was a length before Melisande. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—Selling, $400 added, 6 furlongs: Kormak, 106 (Shilling), 2 to 1, 4 to 5, 1 to 3, won; The Hague, 105 (Walsh), 3 to 1, even, 2 to 5, second; Little Rajah, 109 (Archibald), 6 to 5, 1 to 2, 1 to 5, third. Time, 1:14. Summer Time, Americaneer, Indora and Lescar ran.

QUERIES ANSWERED.

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison: On July 26th, in a game with Chattanooga, Pitcher Juul of the Montgomery team, was taken out of the box in the eighth inning, Hickman taking his place. At that time the score was tied, 4 and 4. Montgomery won in the ninth inning. Queries: 1—Who gets credit for winning the game, Juul or Hickman? 2—Had the score been in Chattanooga's favor at the time Juul was replaced by Hickman, would not the loss of the game have been chargeable to Juul, rather than to Hickman? J. G. S.

1. Hickman wins.
2. Yes.

MAY DAY CAPTURES RICKMAN HOTEL PURSE

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 28.—May Day, no better than a third choice in the pools today, won the $5,000 Rickman Hotel purse, the feature of the fourth day's racing in the Grand Circuit meet here.

May Day is the Indian mare which William Ryan, a blacksmith of Covington, Ky., last winter sold to Thomas Bodine, of the same place, for $500.

The 2:05 pace carded for today, failed to fill, leaving only three events on the program, all of which were won in three straight heats.

Captain George, the only favorite of the day to win, had an easy thing of it in the 2:30 trot.

Summaries: 2:12 trot, purse, $1,000, 3 in 5: Major Strong, b. g. by Strong Boy, won; Vito, b. h., second; Bervaldo, b. g., third. Best time, 2:07 1-4.

2:13 pace, purse, $5,000, 3 in 5: May Day, b. m., by Commutation, won; Brenham Baugham, b. h., second; Lady of Honor, ch. m., third. Best time, 2:04 3-4.

2:30 trot, $1,000, 3 in 5: Captain George, b. c., by Admiral, won; Robert A., br. g., second; Dr. Tregg, br. g., third. Best time, 2:09 1-4.

American Yacht Wins.

Manchester, Mass., July 28.—The Seawanahka Cup stays in the States, for its defender, the Massachusetts, of the Manchester Yacht Club, outsailed and outdrifted the Canadian challenger, St. Lawrence, of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, in the third and final race today. The race was won in three straight victories. The conditions were the best three in five.

Bargains for Men

The menfolk are having their inning now on the bargain field. They may laugh at the women, poke fun at them for going to a special sale, hoot at their notions of saving, but all the time they're just as keen about a good, money-saving sale as the women.

Come down here this morning and watch them go for these Shirts and Ties.

No wonder, tho, these are such very good Shirts and so very cheap.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON VERY ACTIVE; NEW HIGH RECORDS

A Broadening General Demand Net Higherr 5 to 11 Points.

New York, July 28.—While there was no such sensational fluctuations in July cotton as yesterday, the market continued very active today and ruled generally higher, with December and later positions, making new high records for the season on a broadening general demand, attributed to bullish reports from the new crop and talk of an improvement in the demand for cotton goods. The close was steady at a net advance of 5@11 points.

The market opened firm at unchanged prices on July, but generally 8@18 points higher, on steady cables continued dry weather in the south west and a rush of overnight covering orders. Realizing was heavy around the initial figures, and while July steadily improved after opening at 15.90, the later months worked off 9@10 points from the best during the middle of the day, under profit-taking for over the week-end and the government report. Private crop advices continued very bullish, however, with a condition report issued by a prominent local authority, indicating a deterioration of fully 5 per cent during the past month and offerings were so well absorbed on moderate reactions as to suggest a rather general scaling down of new crop views. Many early sellers who found their offerings as well absorbed, turned to replace their cotton in the late trading, and while the close was a little off from the best there was at no time any sign of weakness. It was estimated that July notices for over 80,000 bales were issued during the morning, making nearly 200,000 bales that had been tendered the bulls since the first of the month but these notices were quickly stopped and July sold at 16.05, or 15 points above the closing figures of last night, with the close at 15.98 bid. Tomorrow will be the last day of trading in July and sentiment was still nervous in the late trading owing to apprehensions that there might yet be some belated short interest.

Southern spot markets were ⅛c lower to ¼c higher.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 2,444 bales against 7,988 last year, and 2,510 last year; for the week 30,000 against 56,331 last week, and 18,401 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 491 bales, against 468 last year, and at Houston, 157 against 30 last year.

Spot closed quiet 20 points higher; middling uplands, 16.05; middling gulf, 16.30; sales, 23,052.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 28.—Cotton—spot, quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot 328 bales; to arrive none; low ordinary 11 5-16, nominal; ordinary 12⅛, nominal; good ordinary 13 9-16; strict good ordinary 13 15-16; low middling 14¼; strict low middling 14½; middling 14¾; strict middling 14 15-16; good middling 15⅛; strict good middling 15 5-16; middling fair 15 7-16; middling fair to fair 15 13-16; fair 16 3-16, nominal; receipts 491; stock 51,293.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 8 to 11 points on good cables and continued dry weather in the western half of the cotton belt. July was very strong in the first half hour of trading, and advanced to a level 30 points over yesterday's closing. The other active positions stood 10 to 11 points up at the end of the first half hour of business. The posting of the weather forecast calling for fair weather for Texas and Oklahoma steadied prices when they seemed about to ease off under profit-taking by satisfied longs. Reports from many points in the west and that the situation was fast becoming critical as the result of too little rain and too high temperatures.

Bears displayed opposition to carrying the advance on the new crop months higher around the middle of the morning, and making much of better crop and weather news from the eastern half of the belt, and a comparatively large movement of new cotton in Texas, they sold the active months 5 to 10 points down from the highest of the morning. Around 13.40 for October, fresh buying orders were received by commission houses in sufficient volume to check the decline.

Receipts of 147 bales of new cotton at Galveston and 77 bales at Houston today caused bears to predict that the movement of new cotton up to September 1 would be much larger than the bull clique has ever estimated, and that it will probably be a factor of importance in the August position. At noon the market was quiet and steady, 2 to 4 points over yesterday's closing.

In the afternoon session the market felt the influence of a bullish circular from a prominent New York operator, and prices were put to the highest levels of the day again, so far as the new crops were concerned. Neither July nor August displayed much if any activity, although August lost 4 points from yesterday's closing in the trading up to 2 o'clock.

The close was steady at a net advance of 10 points on the July option, a net decline of 3 points on August, and a net advance of 5 points on the new crop months.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 28.—The dry goods market showed a better tone during the [illegible] Cotton goods are firmer and in gradually improving demand. Yarns are firmer. Linings are being bought more freely. Staple prints are being ordered more generally. Dress goods are quiet and cutters are awaiting the outcome of the strike among the garment workers.

POWERFUL SYNDICATE TOOK HEAVY BLOCKS

To Save the Necessity of Sacrificing Values in the Open Stock Market.

New York, July 28.—Further material recuperation of stock market values today followed the disclosure in additional detail of arrangements by which heavy blocks of securities hanging over the market had been taken over by powerful banking syndicates, thus saving the necessity of further sacrifice of values in a ruthless sale in the open market without demand sufficient to absorb the offerings. Attention was focused in the operation dealing with the Pearson Syndicate holdings taken up by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and foreign associates. Circumstantial and authentic reports on this transaction gave it a major interest, but there were conjectures of other similar settlements, especially one growing out of a project of railroad amalgamation as ambitious almost in scope as the one taken over by the transfer admitted. The effect of these developments on the speculative tone of the market was electrical. Relief from threatened liquidation of dislodged holdings was enough in itself to change the complexion of the outlook. To this was added the room for surmises over the new combinations and changes of control possibly to be effected out of the new ownership of shares. There was some anxiety shown in the direction of this surmise, so far as it suggested the possibility of these new holdings coming back on the market at a more advantageous opportunity. Bad effects of this supposition were neutralized by intimations of the probable permanent character of the new investment.

The sudden adjustment of so dangerous a situation left a very large short interest uncovered in the market which had counted on a continuance of a forced liquidation to depress prices to a still lower level. The bear party was large and urgent buyers in all departments of the market and their necessities made it easy for their opponents to bid prices up on them rapidly. It was assumed the settlements would include placing substantial amounts of securities with foreign holders. Some large blocks of very high grade stocks were believed to have passed in the process of protection and adjustment, part of which were designed for foreign investors. Buying in the open market also included a substantial proportion of orders for foreign account. The low level to which prices had been forced proved attractive to investors when the fact became known of the clearing of the situation.

Money movement currents continue to move toward strengthening New York bank reserves in spite of some offsetting movements.

Bonds were firm; total sales, par value, $2,384,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

London Stock Market.

London, July 28.—American securities opened firm and from ¼ to 1 point above parity today. Good buying during the first hour carried prices still higher and at noon the market was firm with values ranging from ¼ to 1¾ over yesterday's New York closing. In the afternoon, professional buying, supplemented by Wall street support, advanced Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and United States Steel and the rest of the list hardened in sympathy. The market closed strong.

Argo, Jester & Co.

New York, July 28.—Prices started up with a rush at the opening, but the advance met with heavy realizing, which carried the market down to about the previous close, at which point buying orders began to come in sufficient volume to check the decline and bring about a recovery later on. A prominent local firm gave out a condition report showing a loss of five points for the month. This served to strengthen the feeling that the government report would show very bullish and encouraged fresh buying. There has, however, been so much profit-taking during the past few days that the market is considered to be very well liquidated and ready to respond to any fresh stimulus. The trade seems to be accepting deterioration as a settled fact and to be growing daily more nervous over the outlook for supplies the coming season. We repeat our advice not to overlook good profits on advances, but there is nothing in the present situation to favor the short side.

Liverpool is due unchanged.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 28.—Cable reports were better during the day than at first, and our market opened with unusual animation and an advance, from which there was a reaction on profit-taking, with heavy selling for foreign account. The activity of the bull leaders was confined to the support of the old crop, but outside speculative interest has been stimulated, and the shorts were large buyers. Crop reports are not good. The Journal of Commerce says that the Georgia outlook is gloomy. Texas is still dry and hot. Private estimates of the crop condition make a decline of 5.1 per cent. The belt, otherwise than above, shows generally good weather. The tendency of the trade is to support prices till the government figures are out of the way. Should the market then be overbought, present prices would appear high.

JULY WHEAT HIGHER; OTHER OPTIONS LOWER

Chicago, July 28.—With receipts of wheat at primary markets reaching a total nearly double that of a week ago, and considerably more than at the corresponding time last year, a heavy tone developed. The July delivery was an exception, because the wheat that is arriving cannot be unloaded into public elevators soon enough, as a rule, to be available for this month's contracts. The close, although showing a full cent advance for July, was off ⅝ to 1⅝c for the other options. Cooler weather and rain let down corn, which finished at a net decline of 2 to 2¾c. Oats made a similar record to the extent of 1⅛c to 1⅜c and provisions 10 to 30c, barring July pork, a fixture at last night's levels.

As the day wore on there was a notable falling off in country acceptances of bids for cash wheat, indicating apparently a smaller run from now on. The explanation seemed to be that cash wheat was selling at 3 to 4 cents under July delivery today for No. 1 and No. 2 hard and No. 2 red —a most unusual situation. September ranged from $1.02⅞ to $1.04⅛, and closed ⅜c to ½@⅝c net lower, but steady at $1.03⅝ to $1.03¾.

Cooler weather spread all over the corn belt today. Rains were fairly general. Local and eastern speculators, who were largely responsible for the recent sharp upturn in the price of corn, were busy unloading during the greater part of the session. Oklahoma reports were to the effect that crop damage there has not been so heavy as alleged. Fluctuations in the September option had as limits 63⅜c and 65⅝c, with the close steady at 63½ to ⅝c, a net decline of 2⅛ to 2¼c. The cash market was weak. No. 2 yellow finished at 67c.

Hedging sales against cash purchases weighted down oats. The harvest is practically completed up to a level with Chicago, and with good weather will be ended as far as the Illinois northern boundary this week. September varied from 37⅜c to 38½@⅝c, and closed 1¼@⅜c down at 37⅝c.

Grain weakness and a larger run of hogs made provisions heavy. Pork generally was 12½c to 30c lower at the wind-up; lard, 12½c to 30@32½c, and ribs, 10c to 25c.

MARKETS

Coffee.

New York, July 28.—Coffee futures opened firm at an advance of 5@10 points on active covering by European shorts and fresh local buying, attributed to firmer offerings for forward shipment from Brazil and reports of a better demand in the primary market from European importers. The demand was supplied by old longs around the initial prices, but the market fully maintained the advance, closing steady at a net gain of 5@10 points. Sales were reported of 50,250 bags, representing the largest day for some time past, and including business in July, 1911, at 7.20, and about 4,000 bags in the shape of switches.

Havre closed ¼ higher. Hamburg was ¼ higher. Rio unchanged at 4 sx 8.25. Santos unchanged; fours 4 sx 500; sevens 4 sx 150. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports 72,000 bags, against 86,000; Jundiahy receipts 40,400, against 72,100.

New York warehouse deliveries yesterday were 13,589 bags, against 6,212 last year.

Spot coffee steady; Rio, No. 7, 8⅝; Santos, No. 4, 9½@9⅝. Mild coffee quiet; Cordova 10@12¼. Futures ranged as follows:

MRS. MARION JENNINGS TAKES HER OWN LIFE

Prominent Spartanburg, S. C., Woman Commits Suicide in Fit of Despondency.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 28.—Mrs. Marion B. Jennings shot herself this morning and died instantly. The deed is attributed to despondency over poor health.

Two shots were fired, one taking effect. She was in her bed room and other members of the family were at the breakfast table.

On hearing the shots they rushed in to find Mrs. Jennings dead in a pool of her own blood.

Mr. Jennings is a prominent attorney of this city and his father is state treasurer of South Carolina.

Beautiful Wash Goods for a Mere Song This Morning at 9 O'Clock

That is, a mere song accompanied by the jingle of a few pennies. And, of course, if you'd rather just give us the accompaniment only, we'll dispense with the song.

As to the goods--they're really wonderful values. Genuinely good qualities, smart, stylish, standard, splendid for this season or next.

And by the way, it's a mighty wise stunt to buy things for future use while they're so cheap.

And cheap they certainly are for today. Like this:

28-inch Chambray, light and dark blue, pink, tan, red, grey 10c quality; 28-inch white striped Curtain Lawn, 10c value; 28-inch Colored Lawns in dots and new patterns, 10c value; 28-inch fancy Cotton Suiting, 12 1-2c value	6c
12 1-2c and 15c Colored Lawns; 15c Colored Cotton Suiting	10c
17 1-2c Chambray, tan, grey, pink and blue; 15c Handkerchief Linon	12½c
25c Colored Galatea Cloth, striped and checkt	15c
Kimono Crepes, plain and in new fancy patterns	17½c
25c Cotton Foulard, all colors; 35c Linen, blue, champagne, pink, green	19c

WAR DECLARED ON THE MACHINE

Independent Ticket Is Named in Pennsylvania.

Berry, Who Uncovered Capitol Steal, Nominated for Governor--Platform Declares Pennsylvania Is Ruled by "The Boss and the Saloon."

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—William H. Berry, of Delaware county, for governor; D. Clarence Gibboney, of Philadelphia, for lieutenant governor; Cornelius D. Schully, of Allegheny county, for state treasurer, and John Casey, of Luzerne county, for secretary of internal affairs, is the ticket nominated by the Keystone party, formed here today to oppose the nominees of both the republican and democratic parties.

Old Parties and Liquor.

The convention, composed of 117 delegates from fifty-two counties in this state, denounced both the old parties as being under the domination of the liquor interests.

The nominee for governor was formerly state treasurer, to which office he was elected by the combined democratic, prohibition and independent votes in the political upheaval of 1905. While in office he uncovered the state capitol scandal. In the recent democratic state convention he was defeated in the nomination for governor, but received 109 votes. Many democratic delegates subsequently bolted the party and took part in today's convention.

The name "Keystone" was adopted by the convention as the party name.

Desperate Battle Necessary.

The preamble to the platform adopted by the independents begins with the following language:

"Pennsylvanians are face to face with the necessity for desperate battle for the preservation of representative free government.

"A political trust managed by cunning politicians threatens the commonwealth.

"Some of the corporators are labeled republicans and some democrats, but they are all in league against the people and act in harmony with one treasonable purpose and under the orders of one head.

"Their power is based upon the illegal and unwarranted use of public property and office; upon force, fraud and election crimes.

"Police-protected dens of vice are made to furnish enough illegal votes to overwhelm respectable citizenship.

"Both of the tickets nominated and both of the platforms adopted, it is well understood, were dictated by the same authority, and were intended for the delusion of the voters and the further confirmation of the power of the political machine."

The Boss and the Saloon.

The preamble calls upon citizens to join for the defeat of the "political partnership of the boss and the saloon."

The platform, among other things, calls for the abolition of the party square, and favors the short ballot; it advocates local self-government in the matter of the liquor traffic; advocates the election of United States senators by popular vote and calls for a public service commission similar to the one in New York state.

I am an expert accountant. If elected as county commissioner I am capable of knowing how your funds are expended, and I promise that the items of expenditures will be published monthly, including amounts spent on roads, where spent and in detail—every dollar—so you may for yourself inspect and intelligently criticise same if improper. Elect me if you want to know how your money is being spent.

Boy Kills Robber.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 28.—Hamer Shockley, of Grinnell, was shot and killed last night by the 14-year-old son of George Norris, a farmer near Grinnell. Shockley was caught robbing the Norris granery and was shot down during a flash of lightning.

The Time to Trade

"It is all right to be careful and cautious; but when you see a snap, go ahead and trade."—ADAIR'S IDEAS.

We can sell No. 210 Edgewood avenue at $275 a foot. This is between Piedmont and Butler, and adjoins the brick building on the corner of Edgewood and Butler, with a right to join said wall.

We think more of this property than of some that has been selling at $400 to $600 a foot. It's at a busy crossing, on a good street, and is worth $275.

ACRE LOTS AT OAKVIEW

This is the only opportunity that has been offered to the public to get as much as an acre on car line around Atlanta, at a reasonable price and on reasonable terms. These lots are on the South Decatur car line, just this side of Decatur. Each lot fronts two streets and is big enough to make four ordinary lots, with enough wood on each lot to last several years. The price of these lots is $1,000, one-fourth cash, and the balance in 1, 2 and 3 years with 7 per cent interest. This not only affords an opportunity for a large lot for garden, fruit, etc., but is a fine speculation. Come and see plat.

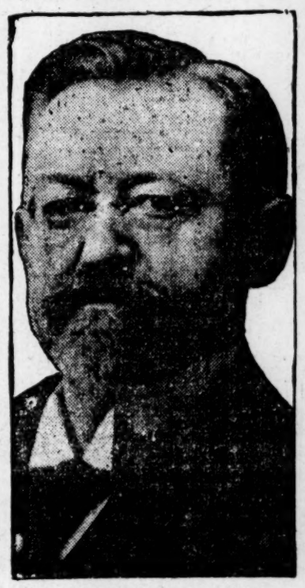
DISEASES OF MEN



DR. WM. M. BAIRD.

If I have some decided and original views on these diseases it is because I have been continuously in the work for 33 years, and for 25 years have devoted my whole time to these difficult and delicate cases.

I believe that many cases of stricture may be cured with less harsh treatment than they often receive. I believe this because I have demonstrated it again and again.

I believe that Syphilis needs not only the proper remedies, but careful, intelligent methods and attention to detail in order to cure and cure permanently.

I believe that Chronic Gonorrhoea causes more physical wrecks than any other diseases. I believe this because I know. I believe that nothing needs more scientific methods in order to cure, and the man who suffers from it knows, too, that I am right.

I believe in straightforward advertising and honest business methods, combined with conscientious treatment, and if you are in need of advice, and will appreciate that kind of service, I will take pleasure in examining you free of charge.

Office hours: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.; Sunday, 10 to 1.

My booklets, "Diseases of Men" and "Health Essays," sent sealed and in plain wrapper on request.

I have been practicing in Atlanta longer than any advertising specialist here or any firm of advertising specialists. Any statements to the contrary are unequivocally false.

TELEGRAPH FRANKS SOON TO BE A THING OF THE DEADHEAD PAST

Along with free passes, free sleeping car tickets, and free other things that used to be, telegraph and telephone franks are soon to vanish down the vista of the dim "deadhead" past.

Notices to that effect were received in Atlanta yesterday by holders of telegraph franks, who, although prevented from using them within the limits of the state as a result of the railroad commission's rule still enjoyed the privilege of telegraphing to their friends and relatives beyond the state's borders.

But even that is to be no more. And as in the case of railroad passes, your "Uncle Samuel" is responsible.

For the telegraph companies have by the new federal act amending the Hepburn law, been classed as "common carriers," as have likewise telephone companies, and it is well known that common carriers are forbidden to furnish free transportation, deadhead franks or anything of a like or similar nature.

There were quite a number of Atlantans who, for one reason or another, enjoyed the privilege of a telegraph frank, but after August 17, next, this privilege is to be denied to all except employees of the companies and others specified under the law.

Telegraph and telephone companies are to be permitted to exchange courtesies with other public service corporations, but all outsiders are forbidden after that date to receive any of these privileges unless they come within one of the classes enumerated in the following paragraph of the law:

"No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall, . . . directly or indirectly, issue or give any interstate free ticket, free pass or free transportation for passengers, except to its employees and their families, its officers, agents, surgeons, physicians and attorneys-at-law, to ministers of religion, traveling secretaries of railroad Young Men's Christian Associations, inmates of hospitals and charitable and eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable and eleemosynary work; to indigent, destitute and homeless persons, and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the National Homes or State Homes for Disabled Volunteer soldiers, and of Soldiers' and Sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary care-takers of live stock, poultry, milk and fruit; to employees on sleeping cars, express cars and to linemen of telegraph and telephone companies; to railway mail service employees, postoffice inspectors, customs inspectors and immigration inspectors; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the common carrier is interested, persons injured in wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such persons."

OLD ECZEMA REMEDY.

Easy to Use, Quick Relief, Permanent Cure.

Imperial Remedy is a nice, clean liquid; just pour a little on a piece of absorbent cotton and apply to the skin. All itching, burning or pain is immediately soothed and you feel eased and restful.

It penetrates the skin, kills the germs, drives them to the surface and peels them off in the form of scales. The skin is then left pure and soft.

Matters not what kind of a skin disease you have, or how long you have been troubled, Imperial Remedy will cure you. Twenty-five years of continued success proves it. Do not be annoyed with this malady another day; go to the nearest drug store and get a bottle of Imperial Remedy. Price $1.00. If he cannot supply you, mail us $1.00 and we will send you a bottle by prepaid express. Address Imperial Medicine Co., Houston, Texas.

FARMERS' UNION PICNIC AUGUST 4

The Fulton County Farmers' Union No. 106, will hold a grand rally and basket picnic at Lakewood on Thursday, August 4. Every farmer in Fulton and adjoining counties is invited to come and bring his family and full lunch baskets.

There will be speaking, boating, bathing and dancing galore, and a good time and a large attendance are certain. Among the speakers will be Hon. E. Cabaniss, the new state president; T. L. Hawkins, state organizer; R. J. Wooten, state lecturer; Dr. Stockbridge, of the agricultural committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and others.

Considerate: Magistrate (to prisoner)—If you were there for no dishonest purposes, why were you in your stockinged feet? Prisoner—I 'eard there was sickness in the family.—Punch.

FOR LOCAL SHOWERS WEATHER MAN LOOKS

Better Take An Umbrella on Your Trip to Shopping District.

A MODEST WEATHER POEM.

There was an old maid in the town
So modest and so shy
That she had never in her life
A man looked in the eye.
She was so very modest that
She almost had a swoon
Because there looked into her room
The man up in the moon.
At church she would not sing at all,
But sat there, dumb and prim,
Because the verses they gave out
The pastor called a "him."
Before a letter she would write
She'd rather go to jail,
Because the answer that would come
Would bring to her the "male."
A gardener saw her watering flowers—
That's how the story goes—
And in a fit she died because
He asked about her "hose."

—G. N. H.

Showers today. Do. If you go out shopping or to any of the parks, or even to take a short stroll, be sure to carry an umbrella. This kind of weather is fickle. It may be fair and bright, and in within an hour a cloud may arise and down will come a heavy pour of rain. This is typical July weather in this latitude.

The weather man does not see any chances of a change of program for several days to come. Maybe a week from now there may be a steady rain from an east wind, but it isn't in sight, however.

"Talking about showers," said the Gopher, "that reminds me of a shower the like of which I never saw before in all my life. It happened on Peachtree street on last Wednesday evening just as crowds were going to the moving picture shows. It was a soot shower. Yes, sir; there came down from somewhere a terrible and black shower of soot. It got onto the riggings of a lot of young ladies, and one in particular looked so much like a burnt cork artist in a negro minstrel show that she had to go into a store and use soap, water and towel to make her face look white and rosy again. She was game, however, and laughingly said, it didn't 'soot' her at all."

SALARY INCREASE FOR MACON'S MAYOR

Macon, Ga., July 28.—(Special.)—The mayor of Macon will get a raise of salary in the amendment proposed locally to the city charter. During Judge Miller's administration he voluntarily had the salary decreased from $3,000 to $2,000.

The purpose now is to have the salary for the mayor increased to $3,000, where it stood many years before Judge Miller came into office.

If the people want a commissioner that has backbone enough to "tote" his own "skillet" and see that old, neglected highways are brought up to the standard, and that no real estate speculations are made with the money that should be expended for the whole people, vote for
